

Bonn First Stop on Ike's European Trip

Wants to Ease Fears Of Germans

Gettysburg, Pa., (AP)—President Eisenhower has shifted his European schedule to make Bonn his first call.

One possible purpose is to allay West German fears of being left in the lurch by Eisenhower's forthcoming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, although Eisenhower reportedly feels the western allies need no such assurance.

Announcement here and in Bonn yesterday that Eisenhower will confer with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn on Aug. 27 came as a surprise in diplomatic circles.

While it has been stated all along that Eisenhower would see Adenauer while abroad, observers had been under the impression the chancellor would go to London or Paris rather than having Eisenhower go to Bonn.

Accepts Invitation

White House Press Sec. James C. Hagerty came here to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters yesterday to tell reporters Eisenhower had accepted Adenauer's invitation.

The president is looking forward to the opportunity to meet with the chancellor and discuss with him "current problems of interest to the United States and the federal republic," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower, who came here Friday, goes to Washington late today to keep some appointments. He will return here tomorrow to begin a work-vacation, preparing for his trip to Europe and for Khrushchev's Sept. 15 visit.

Early this morning, the president got in some golf with his grandson, 11-year-old David Eisenhower, and William Robinson of New York, president of the Coca Cola company. They showed up at the Gettysburg Country club at 8:15 a.m.

Will Leave Aug. 26

Inclusion of Bonn on his schedule moved up Eisenhower's departure for Europe by one day—from Aug. 27 to Aug. 26.

Traveling by jet plane—the first time a U. S. president has done so—Eisenhower will arrive in Bonn Aug. 27 for the talks with Adenauer, and travel to London that evening for a 5-day stay. During this period, he will confer with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and probably make a side visit to Balmoral castle in Scotland, for a formal call on Queen Elizabeth II.

Goldfine Faces More Questions

Washington (AP)—House investigators announced plans today to give Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine another chance to answer questions he refused to answer last year.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the house legislative oversight subcommittee told reporters Goldfine will be recalled before the subcommittee "at the earliest practical time."

No date for the hearing has been set, Harris said, "because our staff has some preliminary work to do but they have been directed to make preparations."

Harris refused to speculate how long it will take to complete the preparations.

Newspaper Keeps People Informed Of Daily Events

There's an old vaudeville routine that starts out with "I see by the paper..."

Vaudeville may nearly be a thing of the past, but the phrase is one still heard every day. For news of people, issues in which we are interested, of all the events that make life more exciting, we turn to the daily paper.

Battle Mine Fire $3 Million Project

BY HERB LINNEN

Carbondale, Pa., (AP)—A $3 million 3-year project will start here soon to eliminate an underground mine fire that threatens to spread under the city's business district.

The underground fire broke out in 1946 on the west side of this northeastern Pennsylvania community. Since then, in addition to proving fatal in 1952 to an elderly couple who died of carbon monoxide poisoning, the fire's noxious fumes have made hundreds of others ill.

Officials over the years have tried to kill the fire by drilling holes into the earth and pumping silt-bearing water into them. This has proved unsuccessful.

Engineers feel that the earth must be ripped apart to get at the mine fire and put it out once and for all. Steam shovels will dig out huge trenches in a carefully planned pattern to surround and seal off the fire. Then the burning coal will be taken out, dumped on high ground and sprayed with water.

The fire broke out when rubbish dumped by the city into abandoned coal stripping craters in the 130-acre area started burning. Before the fire could be put out, exposed coal deposits were ignited. The flames raced underground through a network of abandoned mine tunnels.

As a precaution against the fumes, many families keep fans running in cellars and sleep with windows partly open. Inspectors check gas concentrations in homes on a 24-hour schedule to alert families of possible danger.

In 1954, Frank P. Kelly, the community's pharmacist-mayor, declared a state of emergency and called for state assistance when 15 families were made ill, overnight by the fumes.

The seriousness of the situation prompted federal officials to make Carbondale eligible for aid under the urban redevelopment program.

Lie Detector May Test Tale About Killing

Milwaukee (AP)—Authorities said Sunday a vagrant who says he knows who murdered Maria Ridulph, 7, Sycamore, Ill., may be given a lie detector test.

Robert Hardin, 31, of Elgin, Ill., appeared in court Saturday on a disorderly conduct charge after he told a waitress he had killed the girl and ordered the waitress to call police. Hardin later changed his story and claimed he met the real killer while serving a sentence in prison farm at Vandalia, Ill.

James Boyle, assistant state's attorney of De Kalb county in Illinois, questioned Hardin Saturday.

Boyle said at Sycamore Sunday he believes Hardin to be an unreliable witness but that authorities cannot overlook his story. Boyle said he would try and arrange a lie detector test for Hardin. He added he also would check Illinois prison files to see if the man Hardin named as the killer ever served a sentence at Vandalia.

The Ridulph girl disappeared Dec. 3, 1957.

Toll Collectors Suspended

Operators of Centennial Bridge Probe Possible $750,000 Shortage

Rock Island, Ill., (AP)—Operators of the Centennial bridge over the Mississippi river and Davenport, Iowa, have suspended all 13 toll collectors, after disclosing a shortage in toll funds up to $750,000.

Acting on information supplied by state authorities and the FBI, the bridge commission yesterday suspended the collectors. City policemen took over their jobs in the emergency.

Bernard J. Moran, Rock Island county state's attorney, said he will seek indictments tomorrow from the federal grand jury meeting at Springfield, Ill.

Officials Not Involved

Moran said that neither the bridge superintendent, William E. Downing, nor members of the bridge commission are involved in the alleged shortage.

He said a wholesale looting of tolls probably started soon after the bridge, owned by the city, was opened in 1940. The bridge is used by an average of 10,000 autos and 2,000 trucks daily. Davenport's population is 81,000; Rock Island's about 50,000 and nearby Moline, Ill., 41,000.

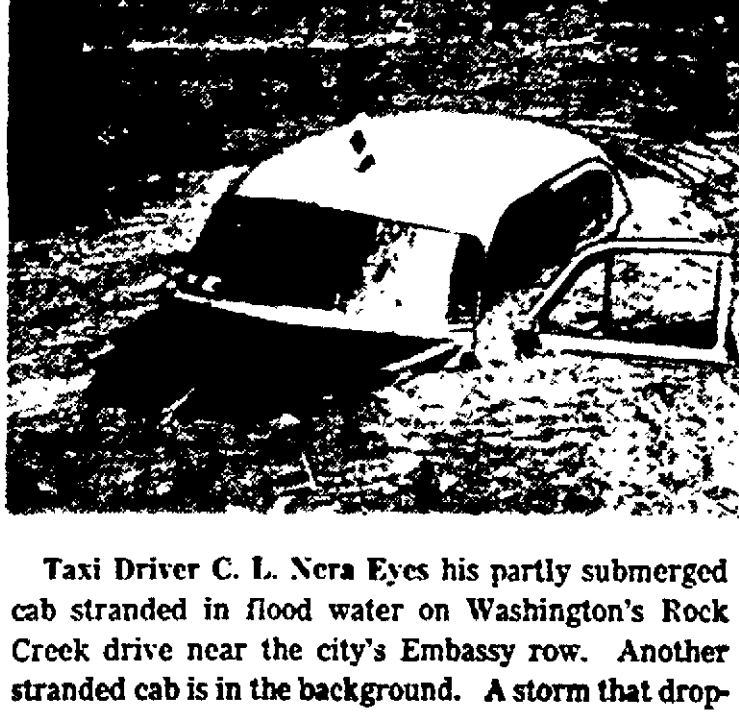

The commission decided yesterday, at a hastily-called meeting, to install automatic toll-collecting equipment on the bridge immediately.

Franklin Wingard of Rock Island, chairman of the commission, said thefts were made possible by defective design of a treadle system which automatically counted vehicles passing over the bridge and helped compute what each owed.

Hoover Says Russian Could Assure Peace

Former President Not Hopeful Visit Means Great Results

New York (AP)—Herbert Hoover, 85 today, says Nikita Khrushchev could bring with him to the United States the greatest gift mankind has received in 1,000 years—peace.

"But this is unlikely to be the result of this visit," the former president added.

"He could interpret his oft-repeated statement as to peaceful coexistence," Hoover said yesterday, "as eliminating all international demands, all warnings, all threats, and all conspiracies against free people."

Want to Dominate

Such a move, said Hoover, could win the Soviet premier "immortality among the leaders of all men."

But, he added, the possibility that Khrushchev would make such a move is remote because "the tactics of the communists may change, but their determination to dominate the world continues."

Hoover appeared on "Meet the Press" over NBC-TV.

The forthcoming visit of the Soviet leader has hopeful possibilities, said Hoover. It could lead to a decrease in tension that might "tide us over for a period in which there may be hopes of greater steps in peace," he said.

3 Killed During Weekend in State Traffic Crashes

Milwaukee (AP)—Three persons died in Wisconsin during the weekend as a result of auto accidents, raising the toll for the year to 447, compared with 458 at this time a year ago.

William Miller, 21, of Tomah died in a Madison hospital Sunday of injuries received in a crash on U. S. Highway 12 north of Tomah early Friday.

Randolph Doberstein, 53, route 3, Medford, was killed Sunday when his truck went out of control on Taylor County Highway A and struck a tree.

Glenn Kirchner, 20, of Mindoro, was killed Friday night in the collision of a car and a truck near Mazomanie.

Hydraulic Engineer Heads Mexican State

Mexicali, Mexico (AP)—A hydraulic engineer has been declared governor-elect of the Mexican state of Baja California.

The government said yesterday that 51-year-old Eligio Esquivel defeated Salvador Magallon by a 2-1 margin in last week's election.

Cuba Looks to Castro Amid Invasion Talk

Former President Herbert Hoover is celebrating his 85th birthday today. He posed for this portrait in New York City Friday.

Await His Report by Radio, TV

Havana (AP)—Cubans looked today to Prime Minister Fidel Castro to clear up the welter of rumors of armed invasion and domestic conspiracy that attended sweeping arrests over the weekend.

While a government blackout obscured many details, Havana newspapers said Castro will report to the nation by radio and TV at an opportune moment. They didn't say when that might be.

An official source said Sunday up to 200 men—civilians and regular army men—had been arrested to smash a military plot against Castro's revolutionary regime.

Today the newspaper Revolution, which frequently speaks for that regime, said possibly more than 1,000 persons were detained in connection with "the counter-revolutionary conspiracy." It reported they included several large landowners. These were not named.

Both Revolution and El Crisol denied without attribution reports of abortive sea and air strikes at the Isle of Pines, off Cuba's southwest coast.

Precautionary Arrests

Military sources said most of the persons detained are held under precautionary arrest or for further investigation rather than on solid charges.

Castro leaders, they said, decided to make a clean sweep by detaining anyone within the armed forces who might conceivably have had a part in the alleged conspiracy.

Defense of Hoffa Shocks Byrnes

Answers Terry's Letter of Support for Union President

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay—Rep. John Byrnes said today he was shocked by a defense of James Hoffa, International Teamsters president, by Emmett Terry, a state Teamsters leader, and by Terry's pledge of "complete cooperation" to Hoffa.

Byrnes made his observation in a letter to Terry which was in reply to a July 28 letter of Terry critical of Byrnes' position in labor reform legislation pending in the house of representatives. Terry is president of Wisconsin Teamsters joint council 39 and secretary-treasurer of Teamsters local 75 in Green Bay.

Terry had written Byrnes that "thousands of Teamsters unionists in Green Bay area resent your unfounded attack on our president, James R. Hoffa."

Quoting from reports of the senate committee which investigated Teamsters affairs, Byrnes said he had believed that "when these matters were revealed, that responsible union people would rise up and clean house."

Need Action by Congress

Man Who Headed Police During Bonus March Dies at Resort

Laguna Beach, Calif. (AP)—The man who commanded Washington, D.C., police during the veterans' bonus march of the early 1930s is dead.

Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford (Ret.), 76, died Sunday in a hospital at this seaside resort and art center. He had been ill several weeks.

Glassford became chief of police in the capital after his retirement from the army in 1931.

He served in the Philippines and World War I. He also was police chief in Phoenix, Ariz. He moved to Laguna Beach after World War II.

Defies Superstition

Postmaster Buries Boy Killed by Lightning

Indian Wells, Ariz. (AP)—The postmaster of this tiny Navajo reservation community will be honored Friday by the post office department for defying a superstition as old as man himself.

The postmaster is Herbert S. Hukriede, 50, and behind the award he is to receive is a story of death, fear and friendship that goes back to the hot, humid afternoon of July 15.

That day, Harry Joe, a 17-year-old Navajo, was struck, and killed by lightning while tending a flock of sheep near his family's hogan.

Joe's elderly parents found his body lying under an abandoned wagon.

He had been struck dead by the evil spirit of lightning, they believed, and an ancient Navajo superstition came back to haunt them. They refused to go near their son's body.

Indian police were summoned and they, too, refused to touch the body.

"They built a fire about 50 yards from the body that night," Hukriede recalled yesterday. "but they wouldn't go near it. Next day they asked me to help."

Watch From Afar

"I drove over there, about 12 miles, took the body to the mission, cleaned it up, fitted it with new clothes and picked it out a box. They didn't even want to haul the body in their own truck, so I used mine."

"They wanted a Christian burial for the boy, but the missionary, Glen Davis, was not due back until the next day. It was pretty hot, so I sent a couple of the boy's relatives over to Holbrook to get some block ice so I could cool the body."

On July 17, Davis conducted the services at an Indian burial ground beside the mission. Hukriede dropped young Joe's saddle, his lariat, a few pieces of cheap jewelry and an empty suitcase into the grave.

From a hillside a quarter mile away the dead boy's family watched the ceremony. Superstition prevented them from going any closer.

"They think they'll go blind or something if they touch anything that has been hit by lightning," Hukriede explained. "They won't even touch a stone or stick that's been struck."

Group Rejects Byrnes' Plan for Gasoline Tax Hike

Washington (AP)—The house ways and means committee today rejected for the second time an increase in the federal gasoline tax to keep the interstate highway program from coming to a halt for lack of funds.

With the financing deadlock still unbroken, the committee scheduled another effort tomorrow to solve the highway financing crisis.

By a reported 15-8 vote, the committee turned down a proposal by Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis) to boost the motor fuel tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon for the remaining 21 months of the next two fiscal years which end June 30, 1961.

On this vote, it was reported that 12 of 15 committee Democrats and 3 of the 10 Republicans voted against the tax increase. Two members were absent.

The eight votes for the tax increase, however, represented a gain of two votes over the maximum given any of the tax proposals, first considered two weeks ago.

The proposed one-cent tax boost it was estimated, would permit apportionment to the states of $1,100,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961 and $1,300,000,000 in fiscal year ending June 30, 1962.

8 Safe in Crash Of Huge Plane

Candia, N. H. (AP)—A huge, 8-engine B-52 air force Stratofortress, her navigation instruments out of commission, crashed in a heavy rain storm today in southeastern New Hampshire.

All eight men aboard parachuted to safety on a farm near this town—30 miles west of Portsmouth.

None was reported injured.

773 Lives Lost in Floods on Formosa

541 Missing Following Heaviest Rains in 62 Years; 134,679 Left Homeless; No U. S. Casualties

Taipei, Formosa —AP— Formosa today mourned 773 dead and 541 missing in flash floods that followed the heaviest rains on the island in 62 years.

Another 563 persons were injured, and 134,679 were homeless in the national disaster.

The torrential rains fell Friday on central and south Formosa as typhoon Ellen bore down on Japan after bypassing northern Formosa earlier in the week. But local weathermen said the rains on Formosa resulted from a storm in the south China sea, not from Ellen.

Homes Destroyed

The floods destroyed 9,782 houses and damaged 8,678 others. Much of the damage was in isolated communities.

Taipei, the capital and home of most Americans stationed on the Nationalist island, suffered little from the storm. Some low-lying streets were flooded Friday night, but there was little damage.

A spokesman for the U. S. command on Formosa said there were no reports of American casualties.

Elsewhere the floods wreaked havoc, sweeping away roads, railway beds and telephone and power lines.

The island's main north-south highway and railroad were impassable for 70 or 80 miles.

In the central Formosan town of Miaoli, 75 persons died and 750 houses were washed away.

Nearly 24 1/2 inches of rain fell in 36 hours in Taichung, and water stood six feet deep in places.

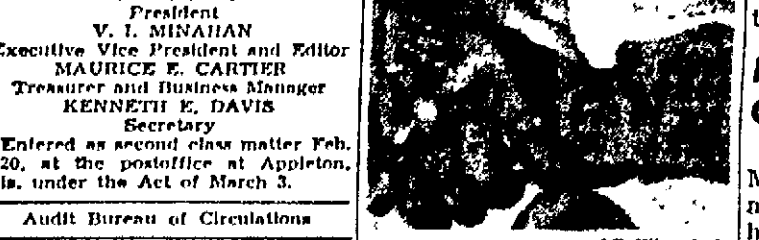

At Changhua seven feet of water covered the railway station.

Five hamlets with a total of 5,000 inhabitants were marooned near Chilai. Troops rescued about 1,000 villagers with boats and rubber rafts.

President Chiang Kai-shek told the army to give all possible help to the flood victims and instructed the cabinet to get a relief program under way immediately. Gen. Chow Chih-jou, governor of Formosa, made an inspection flight over the stricken area, and rice supplies were rushed to the flood sufferers.

The government estimated there was enough food on hand to cope with the crisis and threatened severe punishment for anyone hoarding food prices.

Food Commissioner R. C. Li expressed hope that the crops might be saved if the waters recede quickly.

Laird Charges Duplication Wasting Funds

Defense Department Policies Blasted by Badger Lawmaker

Washington —AP— The defense department was accused today by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., of duplicating defense programs with a waste of billions of dollars.

Laird is a member of the house appropriations committee which approved a $1,200,000,000 military construction bill, to be acted upon today in the house.

"The malignant effects of interservice rivalry are nowhere more clearly apparent than in the divided military advice given the secretary of defense and in the duplication and waste resulting from competing and overlapping weapons systems," Laird said in a prepared house speech.

How, Laird asked, could Sec. of Defense Neil H. McElroy come up with anything but a compromise in the defense program in view of the conflicting advice he has received from the three services.

Missile Spending

In past years, Laird said, perhaps $2 billion have been spent on the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile and another two billion or so on the competing Nike-Hercules systems.

Laird said, "It is now proposed to spend more on each, even though we are told our potential enemies have switched their emphasis from planes to missiles and it is apparent that neither weapon can contend with the growing threat of missiles."

"Other huge sums have been spent by the army and air force on developing the rival intermediate range ballistic missiles Jupiter and Thor. Undoubtedly, a billion dollars could have been saved had a choice been made between the two."

Mother Says One Set Of Triplets Enough

East Orange, N. J. —AP— Mrs. Probyn Thompson, Jr., always had her heart set on having five children. In eight years of marriage she had two.

Over the weekend she realized her ambition by having three at once.

Her husband was asked if he'd like more triplets. "I wouldn't mind, but I think my wife would chicken out," he said.

"I've definitely chickened out," quickly added the happy mother.

Killer Strikes Again; Police Step Up Search

Find Third New York Victim of Gunman Who Murders at Midnight

Westhampton, N.Y. —AP— A supermarket about a man who asked to exchange silver for bills Saturday. The employee said the man suddenly changed his mind and fled.

The man was described as being about 5-6, 160 pounds, with dark, wavy hair, and wearing a polo shirt with black, red and white horizontal stripes.

Latest Victim

The supermarket is in Nassau county, which adjoins Suffolk county where the killings took place.

The latest victim, Mrs. Irene Currier, had just purchased the diner with her husband. They had saved the money working as a bartender and waitress in Manhattan.

The other two victims were Hans Hachmann, 54, who ran a delicatessen at Islip, N.Y., and Lawrence Kirchner, 53, a counterman in an all night diner near Smithtown, N.Y.

The killings took place in a 30-mile-wide area.

Woman Shoots, Kills Intruder

Fires Pistol at Restaurant Owner As He Enters Room

Rogers, Ark. —AP— The wife of a prominent Rogers businessman shot and killed a restaurant owner who entered her bedroom yesterday, police reported.

Mrs. Jay O. Rand, 39, told officers she was reading in bed about 1:30 a.m. when H. V. Clark, a 33-year-old Rogers restaurant owner, suddenly came into her room.

Police quoted her as saying she asked Clark to leave and when he advanced, she got a .25 caliber automatic from a night table and fired four times. Clark, hit thrice in the chest and once in the arm, grabbed the weapon and staggered outside.

Dies in Hospital

Clark managed to drive his automobile to a hospital where he died several hours later.

Mrs. Rand was held on an open charge but was hospitalized for shock. Her husband, president of the Rogers school board and member of a family which owns a grocery concern, was taking part in a summer training at a Georgia army camp. Rand heads the army reserve units in north-west Arkansas.

Police said Mrs. Rand and Clark were acquainted.

Retired Episcopal Bishop Dies at 85

Richmond, Va. —AP— The Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, 85, retired presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, died Saturday.

Funeral services will be at St. Stephen's Episcopal church Tuesday.

Bishop Tucker was a former bishop of Virginia and former president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. He was elected presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church in 1937, holding that post until he reached retirement age in 1946.

Survivors include the widow; two sons, Dr. H. St. George Tucker, Jr., Richmond, and James Warnock Tucker, Alexandria, and six grandchildren.

Official of Shoe Firm Dies at 71

Johnson City, N. Y. —AP— Charles F. Johnson, Jr., chairman of the board and former president of the Endicott Johnson company, shoe manufacturer, died Monday at 71.

He entered Wilson Memorial hospital Saturday. Death was caused by uremia, a kidney disease.

Johnson was a nephew of the late George F. Johnson, one of the founders of the big company.

Johnson is survived by his widow Jeannette and two daughters, Mrs. John Tunnicliffe, St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. William Luckie, Thomasville, Ga.

The funeral service will be held in the Sarah Jane Johnson Memorial Methodist church in Johnson City at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Riverhurst Cemetery park near here.

Democratic Race for Presidential Bid in '60 Seems Tightening

Top Contenders May Push Some Of Favorite Sons Out of Running

Washington —AP— The contest for the Democratic presidential nomination appears to be tightening, with indications that top contenders may be able to push some favorite sons out of the running early in 1960.

The annual governors' conference in San Juan, Puerto Rico, last week gave little apparent support to the aspirations of Democratic Govs. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

Meyner and Williams were unusually vocal in conference sessions, expressing their views on nearly all subjects that came up. But it was not noticeable that they made any political headway.

Surge of Support

But neither was there any outward surge of support for any of the other potential candidates.

Among the Democratic governors there was a recognition that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) has at least secondary support in all the favorite son states. There was also an awareness of a continuing strong sentiment for Adlai E. Stevenson, who says he isn't making a third try for the party's nomination.

Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota got a polite reception — but no public recruits — when he sang the praises of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). Humphrey is billing himself these days as a sort of favorite son of the middle west.

Wisconsin Primary

There was discussion, but again no burst of support, for Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Humphrey is pitching his entire campaign on the assumption he can beat Kennedy in the April 5 Wisconsin primary. If he should lose there, he probably would be out of the race quickly and the Stevenson supporters who now are giving him cautious backing would revert quickly to their original choice.

Kennedy, on the other hand, probably won't even have to contest with Humphrey in New Hampshire's March 8 primary, the first to be held.

New Underwater Swim Mark Set

Pensacola, Fla. —AP— Pretty 24-year-old Jane Baldasare today claimed the record for underwater swimming — 14 miles without surfacing.

The mermaid, a former beauty queen and part-time model, said she planned a vacation somewhere near the water "but if somebody breaks my record, I'll try it again."

Mrs. Baldasare rose to the surface of Sabine bay yesterday after 21 hours and 17 minutes in the drink.

She bettered the listed record of 13.2 miles set by her husband, Fred, at Ft. Rucker, Ala., earlier this summer. In so doing, she doubled the women's mark of 7 miles set by Ginger Stanley at Silver River, Fla., in 1955.

6 Persons Die in 2-Car Crash on Colorado Hill

Strasburg, Colo. —AP— The time was 5:20 p.m., Saturday, and in the next minute six persons would be dead.

But at the moment, for two of them, a Colorado vacation was over and their 1958 model sedan was cruising toward Kansas and home.

At the wheel, LaVerne Miller, 35, Topeka, listened to the chatter of sons, Bruce, 6, and David, 3.

With them in the car were Miller's wife, Donna, 31, and her parents, Walter, 67, and Lena Lindamood, 54.

Approach Steep Hill

Miller had slowed his speed through this eastern Colorado community and was nearing the 60 m.p.h. speed limit on U.S. Highway 40 three miles beyond. Ahead lay a steep hill called Dead Man's hill.

Approaching from the opposite direction was a 1950 model sedan with truck driver Homer A. Carter, 50, at the wheel. He was returning to Denver with his five children from their first joint fishing trip. His wife wasn't along.

At Dead Man's hill Carter's car suddenly veered into the opposite lane.

The cars collided with tremendous force. From the wreckage, officers removed six bodies.

They were those of Miller and his wife; Carter and three of his children, Edward, 7, Amy, 10, and Anna, 14. Ambulances sped the survivors to Denver hospitals.

Will Take Children

From her hospital bed, Mrs. Lindamood said through puffed lips: "We didn't have a chance. We just couldn't get away from him."

Mrs. Lindamood said she would take the Miller children into her home.

Denver police files showed an arrest record dating back to 1930 for Carter. Two of the arrests were for drunken driving. Twice his operator's license was revoked.

Lindamood and Arvin Carter, 8, suffered critical injuries.

James Carter, 5, and Mrs. Lindamood were less seriously hurt. Bruce and David Miller suffered cuts and bruises.

Most Powerful Atom Smasher on Earth Being Planned at Madison

Team of Midwest Scientists at Work
Exploring Inner Space of Particles

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE

Madison — In this physics laboratory, a sign on the wall reads:

"Early risers are concealed in the morning—and stupid in the afternoon."

A scientist who hates to get up in the morning hung it there to josh colleagues who, to him, are grievously bright and alert in the morning.

But it goes well that this team includes both morning-people and night-people.

For this team is working by day and many nights to build the most powerful atom smasher on earth. It might have 10 times more effective energy than any machines now built or planned anywhere else, including Russia.

Exploration of Atoms
Their goal is to rip apart atoms and bits of atoms far more thoroughly than ever before and to learn what atoms are made of, what everything in the universe is really made of, and what forces hold atoms and people together.

The super atom splitter is a project of MURA, the Midwestern Universities Research Association. Scientists from 15 midwest universities are engaged on it, with the Atomic Energy commission footing most of the cost. The physical work is centered here near the University of Wisconsin.

Breaking atoms into significant tell-tale pieces is a major goal of basic science. The practical results could be fantastic.

The tiny hearts of atoms are marvellously complicated. More than 30 different particles have been identified. They now make up a confusing collection of strange atomic particles, explains Dr. Ragnar Rollefson, Wisconsin physics professor and director of MURA.

Matter to Energy
But if all of them can be sorted out and made sense of, then man may learn to change matter into energy, and energy into matter safely, and at will.

This exploration of atomic inner space is as challenging as the exploration of outer space.

It is done by hurling bits of atoms protons or electrons at targets of whole atoms. The smashing collisions break up the hearts of the target atoms, so they yield some secrets.

It takes tremendous energy, hence the drive for ever more powerful machines.

Russia now holds the lead, with a machine hurling atomic particles at energies of 10 billion electron volts (BEV). And she's building one to reach 50 BEV.

U. S. scientists at Brookhaven, N. Y., are building a 25 to 30 BEV machine. And just starting at Stanford university is a 45 BEV linear accelerator, costing upwards of $100 million.

Plan New Approach
The MURA team is working on a totally different approach.

They want to make two moving streams of protons collide with one another. Then all the energy could go into breaking up atoms or bits of atoms. Machines flying a single beam lose much energy in kicking bits of atoms out of stationary targets.

A machine speeding protons up to 15 BEV—but moving in opposite directions—could produce energy equivalent to that of a 540 BEV machine.

Before the MURA scientists aim colliding beams at each other, they will try breaking up atomic nuclei with a single beam 100 times as intense as any yet created.

Increasing the intensity of the beam—that is, the number of particles in the beam—makes the beam more effective, just as increasing the energy of the particles makes them more effective in smashing a target atom.

Testing Made
The ideas are sound in theory, Dr. Rollefson says. MURA now is testing a model 20 feet in diameter, a doughnut of wedge-shaped magnets and hollow aluminum tubing through which the atomic particles can whirl and orbit. It's operating at 50 million, not billion electron volts.

The test model sits in a concrete building on a plot bought by MURA outside Madison. The building is hidden under a hill of dirt which can safely soak up radiation from the machine much more cheaply than thick steel.

MURA scientists, both the day-people and night-people types, have high hopes the model will prove out and lead through which the atomic particles can whirl and orbit. It's

Safety Problem

Vehicle Accidents Kill 2,500 Children Yearly

Consider, as back-to-school time approaches, these five facts from the National Safety Council:

Accidents are the leading cause of death to school-age children.

More than 2,500 children 5 to 14 years of age are killed annually in accidents involving motor vehicles.

More than 1,100 of those children are pedestrians.

150,000 Hurt
A total of 150,000 children in the 5 to 14 age group are injured each year in motor vehicle mishaps.

One out of 12 students injured in a "school-jurisdiction" accident is on his way to or from school.

That's the problem — and back-to-school time is when the problem reaches its peak, according to the National Safety Council.

Solution to the problem?
"Parents," the council said,

"should teach their children to stop, look and listen before crossing streets or railroad tracks. It's not old-fashioned to be safe."

Set Example
"Parents also should set a proper example. Don't expect a child to obey a rule you violate."

Some council suggestions to motorists as the nation's schools prepare to open their doors:

Keep your car in good condition. Pay special attention to tires and brakes. You can't blame the garage man if your car doesn't stop quickly enough in an emergency.

Drive Slowly
Drive slowly near schools.

And slow down where children are walking or playing.

Expect the unexpected from children. Most of them get hurt running from behind, parked cars or crossing in the middle of an intersection.

Chinese Doctor Joins St. Norbert

Dr. Joseph J. Lee, a graduate and former instructor of the Chinese Naval academy, has been named to the staff of the history department at St. Norbert college, the Rev. D. M. Burke, O. Praem, St. Norbert president, announced.

Dr. Lee will teach courses in national monarchies and American history.

Holder of both his M. A. and Ph. D degrees in history from the University of Maryland, from which he was graduated in June 1950, Dr. Lee also has studied at Duke university and at Ohio State. He has taught at St. Mary of the Springs college in Columbus, Ohio.

In 1945 he served as a liaison officer with the Chinese army, in 1952 he became a consultant on political and international affairs with the

Americans Seem to Like Late TV Shows

Paar Program, Movies Credited With Keeping Citizens Awakeful

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York—(U)—Maybe there is something to the frequently discussed trend among Americans to stay up later and later. The Jack Paar show and the late late movies are generally credited for increasing numbers of wakeful citizens after midnight.

Now the New York local outlet of NBC-TV—WRCA-TV—is offering an added incentive to stay up. Beginning tonight it's presenting Dr. Joyce Brothers in a 15-minute "Consult Dr. Brothers" program at 1 a. m. following the Paar show.

Dr. Brothers, a psychologist who won a pot of money as a TV quiz champion some time ago, has been doing a morning show for the station. Her new one will concern family problems which presumably are better discussed after the kids are asleep.

TV trade sources are betting this late program will get network before the season's over, enabling viewers everywhere to ponder family problems into the early hours. Sleep, it seems, no longer

NBC-TV Plans Three Weekly Special Shows

'Sunday Showcase' To Start Sept. 20
With Hour Drama

New York—(U)—In the coming season NBC-TV will make a strong bid to help bring mature television drama back to the status it enjoyed in times past.

"In counting heads, we know that general drama usually doesn't have as big a drawing power as westerns and variety shows," David Levy, vice president in charge of programs, says.

"But counting heads isn't the only criterion you should use in judging a network schedule. One needs at least one home-grown and produced drama show, because it's a staple of the entertainment world."

Thus there will come into

Bergman Durante being on NBC-TV the "Sunday Showcase" of dramatic specials. Scheduled for 8 p. m., it will run against two popular programs on the opposition networks: Ed Sullivan on CBS and "Maverick" on ABC.

"Sunday Showcase" is one of three weekly hours that NBC-TV will devote to a variety of special shows embracing drama, musicals, documentaries. Tuesdays at 9-30 p. m. has been purchased by the Ford Motor company for what network executives feel will be an outstanding series of varied entertainment. The third hour, Fridays at 8-30 p. m., will be a nesting place for other specials, dramas and news documentaries.

Ingrid Bergman has been signed to star in a drama on the Ford series. "The Best of Durante" will launch the Friday night spot on Sept. 25, to be followed a week later by the first of a half-dozen Art Carney shows.

The first "Sunday Showcase" offering on Sept. 20 probably will be an original by S. Lee Foxgottin entitled "People Kill People Sometimes." It will be followed by a 2-part adaptation of Budd Schulberg's "What Makes Sammy Run?"

Julie Andrews Quits Role in 'My Fair Lady'

London—(U)—Julie Andrews took up the role of housewife full time after shedding the rags of Eliza Doolittle, the role in "My Fair Lady" that rocketed her to international stage fame.

The 24-year-old singing actress said she plans to take a Julie Andrews long rest, spending "just a quiet and ordinary time with my husband," stage designer Tony Walton, whom she married last May. She apparently has no immediate plans for a new part.

Tears streaming down her face, Julie took her final curtain call in "Fair Lady" Saturday night after 3½ years before New York and London audiences.

The audience linked hands across the Drury Lane theater and sang "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot." The cast joined in the ovation. Julie fled to her dressing room and wept for more than an hour.

Later the star was hostess at a party in the theater. "A wonderful night and a wonderful show," she said. "Thank you to everyone who made it possible." She recalled the opening night in New York and her first number, that of the little cockney flower girl who dreams wistfully of an easier life.

"You know," she said, "I never really got the part under control. I got very close to it sometimes. And I think I'm enormously better than when I started on Broadway." Anne Rogers, another British girl who has played "My Fair Lady" in the United States, takes over as Eliza.

'Love in Bloom' Played Straight Wins Benny Award

Tulsa, Okla.—(U)—A Brooklyn, N. Y., youth who can play "Love in Bloom" straight was awarded a $2,000 violin donated in honor of comedian Jack Benny—a man who never plays it straight. The Waukegan, Ill., chapter of the American Federation of Musicians presented the violin to John Calabrese as a special tribute to its famous member.

Calabrese was chosen outstanding among 83 students who completed the 8-week international string congress with a concert here. The congress was held at Greenleaf State park near Muskogee and is supported by the AFM in cooperation with Tulsa and Muskogee businessmen.

Your Money's Worth

Money Policies Can be Improved

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you've been listening to the president, his cabinet officials and the chairman of the federal reserve system defend their money policies recently, you understandably might conclude they're doing the best that can be done to make ours a superior economic world.

Porter

It isn't so. There must be better ways than we are pursuing to promote a growing and prosperous nation, employment of all who are able and willing to work and, reasonably stable prices, too.

Arrogant, Ridiculous
It's ridiculous to pretend that in this year of 1959 our political leaders know all there is to know about managing our economic destinies. It's arrogance to argue that the heads of our Central Bank—operating under a law passed 46 years ago and last importantly amended in the mid-30s—have achieved anything approaching perfect control of recessions and inflations. It's nonsense to suggest that we fully understand the impact of high taxes and vast installment buying on our economy, the role played by savings associations, finance companies, pension funds.

But while we can shout that there are ways to improve our money system, we can't be confident what they are, because we don't have enough facts upon which to base our judgment. It's a cinch to criticize the federal reserve system's general credit curbs as discriminatory and unfair, but what specific curbs would be better? It's easy to say that the treasury is managing the huge public debt in a hit-and-miss fashion, but how should we make the fashion less hit-and-miss?

"At last we're off the ground, though, and we're flying," says Dr. Bertrand Fox, research director of the first exhaustive investigation into our monetary system in over a half-century—since the Aldrich Commission of 1908-11, which led to the establishment of the federal reserve system. "We're organized. We're getting down to basic work."

Launched in 1957, This is the independent National Commission on Money and Credit which was launched in November, 1957, by the Committee for Economic Development and which is being financed by grants from the Ford Foundation. After President Eisenhower and congress had talked their own proposed probes into oblivion by permitting the project to become tainted with politics, the CED moved in.

In May, 1958, it announced appointment to the commission of 25 leading Americans representing a cross-section of banking, industry, labor, farming, etc. Last October, Fox took a leave from the Harvard graduate school to become head of the commission's research staff.

"Where do you stand now?" I asked Fox when, piqued by the long silence from commission headquarters, I called for an interview.

Task Forces
"The commission has now been broken down into six task forces," he disclosed, "and each has taken on a major assignment. One, for instance, is digging into the federal reserve system, another into every aspect of the treasury's policies. A third is going over our entire private financial system, a fourth is studying the role of government agencies."

Trinke and Clemens led the fight in the legislature this term for waterway control legislation.

Turtle Finds Boy's Tongue Choice Morsel

Kingman, Kan. — (AP) — Tommy Teegarden, 24, stuck out his tongue at his pet turtle which promptly bit him—you guessed it—on the tongue.

Tommy's mother struggled five minutes to pull the pet loose then rushed the boy to the hospital where a small gash on his tongue was treated.

There were no complications. Tommy ate a hearty supper.

That's a long time to wait—and hopefully, the commission will issue research reports on critical money issues in the meantime. But the big thing is that we do have an independent, top-level commission getting at and facing the facts about our monetary and credit policies. For as CED chairman Donald K. David put it almost two years ago, only when an independent commission has the facts can it "so educate all of us that we will willingly go down the roads indicated, whatever they may be."

Crossed Democratic Signals

The Democratic publicists of Wisconsin probably ought to gather in caucus to arrange their signals as they prepare their publicity broadsides about the success or lack thereof of the Democratic state administration in the legislature recently recessed.

There is a curious contradiction in some of the blurbs that have crossed our desk lately.

Gov. Nelson, for his part, has appeared generally content with the record of legislative approval of his major measures. He has repeatedly assured capitol reporters that the percentage of his bills enacted has delighted him.

Sen. Proxmire, from his observation post in distant Washington, has reported in his own press release that he feels Gov. Nelson's record was outstandingly brilliant, among the governors of the whole country.

But Patrick Lucey's Democratic state headquarters organ, distributed last week, raises the cry of the "obstructionist" state senate and what it did to some of the statesmanlike propositions from the executive office.

All this is slightly absurd. These men can't have it both ways.

Visit From an Old Murderer

The United States is about to receive a visit from a man who has been responsible for the brutal murder of thousands of people, who hates our way of life and form of government and has sworn to destroy them, whose government—with his consent and encouragement—has wiped out whole nations and enslaved their peoples; who is, in short, a tyrant. And the majority of the American people apparently are quite happy about it.

But while this almost seems to be a cruel joke, it is not—the forthcoming visit of Nikita Khrushchev to our shores really is good news. If that seems topsy-turvy it is only because we live in a topsy-turvy world.

For, tragically, the world today is divided into a free camp and a gangster camp. The gangsters have developed enough power—or at least we think they have—so that we must treat with them even though we may despise them. It is as if half of Wisconsin were under the control of an Al Capone, and there were no federal government to give aid to our legitimate state government; we would have to deal with him to keep a substantial part of our resources from being destroyed

State Boards Can Handle 'Paper Unions'

The New York state labor relations board recently barred a "paper union" from recognition under a new policy of denying certification to racket unions. The unanimous decision of the board was characterized as a landmark development by Jay Kramer, the board's chairman. He said it demonstrated the agency's determination to prevent gangsters from using the labor law as a shield for corrupt activities. Paper unions are unions which have officers but no members.

It is interesting to note the words "first crackdown" and "new policy" to describe this move by the New York state board.

The racket unions have been operating for years in New York but it has been almost impossible for official agencies to bring successful action against them. There probably are many such unions still operating since this one was caught only because three principal officers have been accused by Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan of soliciting bribes from landlords in an attempt to gain "sweetheart" contracts.

In fact, the action against this union is the result of anti-rackets teamwork between the labor board and the district attorney's office. Paper unions usually are set up by underworld characters who use them for extortion purposes. They have flourished in recent years under what amounts to a legal license to pose as a bona fide labor organization by applying for certification through national or state labor boards. This particular union known as the Organized Building and Factory Service Employees' Union Local 21 had a constitution, by-laws and a self-issued charter. Ordinarily that would be sufficient for acceptance as an employee organization

The facts of the matter fall somewhere between, as usual in partisan competition. The Democratic governor made a reasonably constructive record, in terms of his bills actually written into law. He won those measures with the help of the Republicans who controlled the upper house of the legislature.

Those Republican senators opposed successfully some other measures brought in by the governor, as was their duty, and as we happen to believe, to their credit. The fact that Gov. Nelson carefully refrained from complaining about some of those losses when he related his impressions about the session may contain more than a hint that he is not altogether sorry about the senate's independent attitude.

This is the checks and balances system of the textbook ideal in actual and fruitful operation. The governor proposed according to his own viewpoint and conscience. The legislature reacted according to its own convictions and conscience. The result was deliberate, careful legislation, of the kind that will suit the vast majority of the people of Wisconsin who are not accustomed to partisan feelings of the extremes indulged by the professionals.

and many of our people from being cruelly maltreated.

Vice President Nixon has asked that we be polite to the old warlord. Yes, let us do so. After all, we invited him here; we did so because it might give us a chance to pound some sense into his thick Georgian skull, and that just might avert a world catastrophe. We are playing with the lives of millions of people, and with that kind of stakes we must try everything no matter how long the odds.

It should not be necessary to picket this visitor, to boo him and shove him around and spit on him in order to remind ourselves that he is, after all, a bloody-handed tyrant. We know this full well; with men like Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Nixon in charge of our government there should be no worry that our responsible officials are going to forget it. So let us greet the old murderer warmly, break bread and drink toasts with him, laugh at his jokes and give him every chance to learn all he can about this fabulously wealthy and fabulously powerful nation of ours and its intensely loyal, intensely determined and intensely idealistic people. Some good may come of it, and if it does not we have lost nothing.

entitled to the legal rights and privileges of the union.

The operators of this local had informed the owners of four buildings that they would be expected to give their superintendents an increase of $5 a month. The superintendent was not to know about the increase. It was to be checked out of his wages and turned over to the union as dues. In return the employers were told they would not have to sign a contract or make any contributions to provide welfare benefits for their workers. They would, however, be asked to contribute $300 to the union's treasury.

How many such unions are operated in New York City? No one knows because very few people can be found who will testify about such rackets. To do so may mean being maimed or killed. In this instance the attorney for a realty corporation took the stand and testified. His action was so unusual that he was commended for his "courageous presentation of evidence under oath." The refusal of employers to testify in such cases has been the chief obstacle to effective prosecution for labor racketeers in other cases.

Much could be done to end such racketeering if the legitimate labor organizations were to cooperate with the labor boards exposing such racketeers. If that were done there would be less demand for reform labor legislation. But so long as the legitimate unions insist upon the use of such weapons as stranger picketing, secondary boycott, the same weapons will be available to racketeers who will do more damage to the legitimate unions than ever could occur from the surrender of such means of bargaining.

Price Support for Hogs May Encourage Surpluses

From The Sheepshead Journal

The corn crop estimate just issued forecasts the largest crop in history. The expectation of 4,244,500,000 bushels for the first year of no acreage controls for corn, which is still given a price support, has already set off a chain reaction reaching all the way to the 1960 election.

The surplus feed supplies had already resulted in a great hog production. The new corn crop—10 per cent above the ten-year average from 1948-1957—means still more hogs. And that in turn means a depressed market.

The Agricultural Committee of the National Planning association, a nonprofit, non-political group devoted to planning by Americans in agriculture, business, labor and the professions, has a solution. In a statement entitled, "Too Many Hogs," it proposes a 1-year-only program to slow the rapid increase of hogs.

It suggests marketing them at 180 to 200 pounds, instead of waiting for the usual over 200-pound market weight. It would put a price support of $12.50 a hundredweight to encourage light weight marketing. It estimates the cost at $200,000,000 for one year.

That would buy a lot of pork chops. It might also bolster Republican farm belt fortunes in 1960. The question is, will it actually discourage farmers from raising more hogs, or just open a new door to greater and greater production? The American farmer has proven his capacity for piling up surpluses if given the least encouragement.

Interest Rates May be Great Issue in '60 Election Campaign

From The St. Petersburg, Fla., Independent

There is a growing indication that high interest rates will be one of the big, if not the biggest, issues in the election of 1960.

Republican congressmen are beginning to question the president's policies which are forcing interest rates higher and higher.

The high cost of borrowing is bothering an increasing number of people and when the time comes for the borrowers and the lenders to go to the polls to elect a president and members of congress it will be found that the borrowers greatly outnumber the lenders.

The higher interest rates will make an ideal campaign issue for the Democrats, because this is something everybody can understand, at least up to a point. It won't be difficult for the Democrats to convince the public generally that higher interest rates take from the "have-nots" and give to the "haves."

And the higher interest rates will not help business either, at least not all business. Home building, one of the factors which has contributed to the stability of our economy in recent years, will be slowed down by high interest and tight money.

Even now a home will cost when paid for more than double the total of ten years ago. Then interest rates averaged 4 1/2 per cent for home buyers and today the average is around 6 per cent and going higher.

Packing the higher interest rates on top of the higher construction costs will make it impossible for an increasing number of families to buy homes.

The high interest policy is also making our national debt increasingly difficult to carry. More and more of the taxpayers' money is going to pay the interest on the national debt. This fact is simple enough to make a good campaign issue.

Congress is becoming more reluctant to remove the 41 per cent limit the federal government can pay on long-term bonds and this will put the treasury in a tighter squeeze for refinancing. Democrats in congress take the position that it is better for the country to pay high rates for short term borrowing than to agree to pay higher rates over a 20-year period.

Whatever the economic advantages or disadvantages the higher interest rate policy of the government may be, the political advantages will be added up in the Democratic column.

Divorcee on Relief Is Living Well

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Three cheers for the going-over in the health department and three cheers for city relief. If there were more to cheer, I certainly would do so.

Recently, I learned of a divorced woman who with her four children are being supported by a welfare agency. This mother will not permit her 16-year-old son to work because any money he earned would be deducted from her monthly allowance.

There is 'so much being said about high taxes, government spending (federal, state, and local) and other gripes which society has in common. All the way down the line so many people seem to crave a free ticket. How can the rest of us continue to carry on? The daily newspapers throughout the country confirm each scandalous affair as it is uncovered. Thus, we learn of conditions as they actually are.

Getting back to local cases — how can this family and many more continue to be free-loaders who shirk the responsibilities of a human being? The divorcee, as long as she continues to receive pay for doing nothing, will train all four of her children in this profitable

Looking Backward

Straw Fire at Richmond's Dock

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 14, 1880.

The alarm fire of Saturday afternoon last was from the Richmond's paper mill. A lot of baled straw had been unloaded upon the dock from a steamer, and it is supposed that as the boat was moving off the straw caught fire from sparks.

It had got so well started that it was deemed best to call out an engine and word was telephoned to that effect, bringing out the Second Ward steamer engine in prompt order, followed by the other, although the latter was not called into requisition.

The "Appleton" had two streams running, together with a stream from the paper mill force pump, but it was a long time before the fire could be extinguished in consequence of the piled up bales and the fire having worked beneath. It was evident that the fire had got well started before being discovered.

25 YEARS AGO

Monday, Aug. 6, 1934

William O'Brien, chairman of the state highway committee, was to meet with the Outagamie county highway committee at the courthouse to discuss proposed construction of the bridge across the Fox River at Little Chute.

John Strange, Neenah, on leave of absence from the Institute of Paper Chemistry, was serving as secretary of the central grading committee for the paper industry.

T. E. McGillan, Menasha, was named a member of the Fond du Lac and Winnebago county precinct clubs' picnic at Van Dyne on Sunday.

Appleton, with four classes and 114 students, was one of the Wisconsin communities which made extensive use of the University of Wisconsin extension division during the past school year.

Excavation for the new Monte Alverno Retreat house on the shore of the Fox river east of St. Joseph cemetery was nearing completion and work on concrete footings for the foundation of the structure was to be started that day.

Democrats Changing Tune on Expenditures

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The tune is changing in the Democratic state administration with respect to expenditures.

There is a fatalistic undertone in some of the executive department publicity blurbs, such as the one the other day which gratuitously added up the legislative appropriations thus far authorized and came up with the staggering, all-time high aggregate of $418,000,000, or nearly $80,000,000 more than the appropriations of two years ago.

(The current figure, it is important to note, is not complete. The legislature will return in the fall, will almost surely vote more money, and bring the total increase up to $100,000,000 or more.)

Missing are the key phrases of the publicity releases earlier in the year, such as "bare bones budgeting." Instead there is the observation that "regardless of the political party in power, the cost of state government has been increasing slightly more than 20 per cent each biennium."

BUT . . .

The statement is true enough. Gov. Nelson is no more able to stand up to the appropriation demands than were his Republican predecessors, and if it turns out that he is a little less disposed to do so, it must also be conceded that he didn't boast that he could.

The governor appears to be saying that expenditures will continue to increase at the rate of 20 per cent per biennial budget, and perhaps more.

The curious may wonder why the executive office bothered to prepare this extraordinary release. Was it to anticipate an attack from the Republican opposition for profligacy, or was it a subtle endeavor to educate the taxpayer to the bad news yet to come.

The slightest reflection, indeed, will persuade the man in the ranks, who must pay for these figures, how bad the news is.

For the governor said in effect that in another decade the present scale of state expenditures may very well double. What that portends in tax policy can only be guessed. Not a handful of legislators have thought that far ahead.

Yet it is not fantastic, to anyone who is familiar with the trends. There has been a doubling during the last decade. There has been a quadrupling during the last two decades. The realist knows, if anything, that the pace of increases will be accelerated. There is a momentum in public expenditures that can not be halted. In any event, no political party now bidding for public support can halt it, on the record.

THE DISTORTION

Gov. Nelson's altogether provocative financial press release also remarked that the over-riding factor in heavier spending is the unequal growth in the population, the presence of more old people and more young people at the receiving line of the public services.

The numbers of persons wanting public services, who are in essentially dependent age categories, are rapidly out-distancing the numbers of persons who are providing them in the way of tax payments.

That is true to a considerable extent. But while it is an explanation, to a degree, it also is an excuse that politicians are tempted to overrate. Republicans have done it, too.

The fact is also, and it is something that the parties and their leaders are loath to acknowledge, that the general public appetite for services is enlarging more rapidly than the tax capacity is increasing, or the politicians believe it is, which amounts to the same thing in the end.

It is startling to realize that the Wisconsin state budget may reach a billion dollars in the next decade or so. But perhaps it is no more startling than the fact that this dispatch should today refer to a $418,000,000 budget, when the comparable figure was about $70,000,000 a little more than two decades ago.

practise and the so-called "vicious circle" continues for another generation.

This easy living consists of the ex-husband visiting the children several times a year but the rest of the time it's Mom's boy friend. As for material things, nothing but the best of everything will do; including modern furniture, expensive sports equipment and new wardrobes for the whole family four seasons of the year. In addition, there is never any cause to worry about how medical care, the rent, or fuel bill is being paid because that is all taken care of for them. Well, if we continue to work hard enough, we may be able to support these shirkers in the style to which they have been accustomed.

Now, about this 16-year-old boy — why is it so wrong for him to help pay for his own living expenses? There is no more hardship involved when a child on welfare hands over his pay check than it is for a child of employed parents to support himself. Putting this boy to work along side other working people would be fine for him. Pride in one's accomplishments, honesty and responsibility are marks of good training. What would happen if all of us said, "Why should I work when I don't have to?"

Some day, perhaps, these human leeches will be forced to live within their means just as honest people must in which case there needn't ever be any cause for deceit.

Mrs. J. L. McEathron

James McEathron Weds in Madison

The Rev. H. L. Orians officiated at the Saturday afternoon marriage ceremony which united in marriage his daughter, Miss Ardath Orians, and James Lewis McEathron, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McEathron, 303 S. Douglas street.

The First Evangelical United Brethren church, Madison, was the setting of the ceremony and Mrs. Thomas Eck, Naperville, Ill., was matron of honor for the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Orians.

Richard Ohman, Middleton, formerly of Appleton, was best man and Roger Cass, Madison, served as groomsmen. Ushers were David Kuebler, Toledo, Ohio, James Olander, Manitowoc, Carl Newton and Malcolm McCutcheon, both of Madison.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors.

The bride attended North Central college, Naperville, Ill., and was graduated from Ohio, where she affiliated with Delta Zeta. She has done graduate work in journalism at the University of Wisconsin and has been employed in the society department of the Madison Capital Times.

The bridegroom received his degree from the state university where he was a member of Iota Delta Pi. He completed his army basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and will be stationed in Granite City, Ill., where the couple will live.

Rockefeller, Fiancee Take Outing

Kristiansand, Norway — (AP) — Steven Rockefeller, his bride-to-be and his future in-laws took a holiday from press and public today "somewhere in Norway."

Young Rockefeller, his fiancée, Anne Marie Rasmussen, and her parents left the Rasmussen home in a rented car Sunday, giving the impression they were off for an outing.

Today a spokesman for young Rockefeller said the group would be away for the rest of the week.

Steven's mother is expected here from New York Monday to help with arrangements for the wedding Aug. 22 in the nearby village of Sogne, where Anne Marie was born.

The bridegroom's father, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, is due Aug. 20.

Sogne's little 17th century Lutheran church was filled for the weekly service Sunday morning, but those who came in hopes of seeing the young couple were disappointed. They did not attend.

A substitute filled the pulpit for the Rev. Olav Gautestad, who will marry 23-year-old Steven and his 21-year-old bride.

Elroy Grunwald Weds Miss Inez Beaucock

St. Paul Lutheran church, Dale, was the setting for the Saturday afternoon marriage of Miss Inez Beaucock, 15051 N. Richmond street, and Elroy Grunwald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Grunwald, route 1, Fremont.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Beaucock, Frankfort, Mich. The Rev. Ervin Ploetz officiated at the double ring ceremony and the bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Miss Ruth Ann Wolf, Neenah, was maid of honor and aids were the Misses Judy Weiner, Neenah, and Joan Tabor, Appleton. Flower girl for her aunt was Cheryl Mickolas.

Daniel Grunwald was his brother's best man and groomsmen were Leo Biesterfeld, Little Chute, and Ronald Schuelke, route 1, Fremont. Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Russell Grunwald, route 1, Fremont, Menominee, Mich., High and Phil Hanson, the bride's school, and the Green Bay cousin, Waupaca. Ring bearer-Business school. She is emcee was the bridegroom's played by the H. C. Prange nephew, Stephen Grunwald, company. The bridegroom is route 1, Fremont.

After the ceremony a dinner, reception and dance and works for the Consolidated were held at Dale Community dated Badger Cooperative in hall and after a Michigan Appleton.

Margaret O'Brien, Bridegroom Leave For Honolulu

Hollywood — (AP) — Actress Margaret O'Brien and commercial art student Harold Robert Allen Jr., sail Tuesday on a Honolulu honeymoon.

They were married Saturday in a double ring ceremony at the St. Martin of Tours Catholic church.

Miss O'Brien, now 21 and a striking brunette, bears little resemblance to the pigtailed moppet who only a few years ago claimed millions of movie fans. The bridegroom is 24.

Missionary Appears on Meeting Program

Miss Susanne Powers, a member of the First Baptist church in Appleton, is appearing on the program of the National Missions conference this week at the American Baptist assembly at Green Lake.

"Africa" and "The Church's Mission in Town and Country" are the conference themes. Miss Powers served as a missionary to Balasore, Orissa, India, before returning to Appleton.

A Ceremony held last Saturday at New London united Miss Carol Beyer and James Stuckart in marriage. The pair is now honeymooning in the western states. The former Miss Beyer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beyer, Shiocton. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Adeline Stuckart, Seymour. The bride was employed at Larry's Lunch at Appleton.

Newcomers Tea To Greet New Appletonians

New Appleton residents will be welcomed to the community at the annual Welcome Wagon Newcomers tea, Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. B. Thompson, 922 W. Winnebago street. Mrs. Thompson is director of the WW units, which also include the Golden Agers and Civic league.

Guests have been invited to attend at various times during the afternoon and evening. The party will be staged from 1 to 3:30 p.m., 3 to 5 p.m., and 7:30 to 10 p.m.

New officers and area hostesses will assist at the tea table. They will be the Mmes. Robert Duncan, Harry Nelesen, Ronald Anderson, Rex Rutherford, Charles Varker, Frederick Brei, John Haugner,

Swimsuits Need Washing

Frequent washing — and don't be afraid to use your washer and dryer — will insure longer life for your swimsuit, according to the American Home Laundry Manufacturers' association.

Salt water, suntan oil, perspiration and sunshine all take their toll of elasticized garments and bright colors. The shorter the time they are in contact, the better it is for the bathing suit.

There's no temptation to skip the necessary laundering between trips to the beach when you have a dryer to quickly finish the job. Wash at slow speed in warm water. Use low heat setting for drying.

If you have a dryer bought before 1957, remove suit before completely dry or use "air-no-heat" setting. Exception: Don't dry wool bathing suits in the dryer.

Honeymooning in Yellowstone National park are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Everts, who were wed last Saturday at Greenville. The bride, the former Miss Rose Ann Ehm, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ehm. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Everts, route 3, New London. The couple will live at route 1, New London.

Couple to Honeymoon In Yellowstone Park

Yellowstone National park is the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Drescher who exchanged wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening at Zion Evangelical United Brethren church, Greenville.

The bride is the former Lois Breitrick, daughter of Mrs. Ora Breitrick, route 1, Appleton, and the late Mr. Breitrick and the bridegroom is the son of Ezra Drescher, route 3, Clintonville, and the late Mrs. Drescher.

The Rev. George Coy officiated at the double ring ceremony and the bride's sister, Mrs. Donald Schnell, Forest Junction, was matron of honor. Aid was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Dorothy Dreschner, Milwaukee, and junior attendants were the bride's nieces, Wendy and Constance Schnell, Forest Junction.

Best man for his brother was Samuel Drescher, Sheboygan, and the bride's brother, Larry Breitrick, route 1, Appleton, was groomsmen. Guests were shown to their places by the bride's brother-in-law, Donald Schnell, Forest Junction, and Donald Brei, Gresham.

A reception was held at the

Shiocton High School Class of '39 Holds 20th Year Reunion

Fourteen members of the class of 1939 at Shiocton High school attended the 20th year class reunion Saturday at Larry's Country club, Hortonville.

Mrs. Delores Lauer Jasper, Spokane, Wash., won awards for having the largest family, eight children, traveling the greatest distance for the reunion, and having the largest increase since the 1953 reunion, four more children.

Mrs. Rose Marie Braatz Fehrman, Appleton, who claimed she was 29, won the prize for being the youngest class member present. Eloy McNish, Black Creek, was the newest parent and Mrs. Eileen Keenan Brugger, Black Creek, was the class member married the longest, 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mam,

Seymour, were cited as the only couple married less than 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Manley, Shiocton, were guests. Manley was principal when the class graduated. Main served as master of ceremonies for the program held after a chicken dinner.

Another reunion was scheduled for June of 1964. On the committee are Mrs. Fehrman, Kluge and McNish.

Tell Ways For Girls to Meet Boys

BY VIVIAN BROWN

It seems pitiful that some girls just can't meet boys. One 18-year-old girl laments this condition, and says she just can't seem to get dates because she has none of the usual opportunities for introductions close at hand. She has no brothers and no friends living near her home.

What do you do about it, she asks, because summer is a particularly lonely time.

Some of the ways to meet a man include:

1. If you are summer school bound, let's hope it is coed and that you choose a boy-type course, not pie making or sewing. There are a lot of home ec students in the bachelor girl bracket for that reason.

2. If you are going to a vacation resort, make sure it majors in golf, tennis and other mansize attractions. Get dad to take you to a fishing camp. (He'll be glad to get away from it all.)

3. Choose a hobby that attracts boys, and spend most time at it. Take your choice:

(a) Photography: Attend classes, visit camera shops, go to lectures and exhibits.

(b) Art school: Take a course in painting, sculpting, drawing, visit the museums.

(c) Poetry and short story: These attract young men to classes, and it'll be fun attending discussion groups.

4. Attend shooting matches, car races, other sports programs. Invest in a small sail boat, learn how to sail it, enter the races.

5. Learn the types of men who are attracted to you. People who resemble each other seem to have some out-of-the-ordinary feature in common — long nose, protruding teeth.

6. When you meet a man casually, avoid being overly-familiar. There is more to be gained in an air of mystery than in telling all on the first meeting. Give him a reason to see you again and to yearn for a date.

7. If you haven't located a summer job, seek one that offers man-meeting opportunities.

8. Avoid time-wasting types who mean nothing in your future. (a) Engaged or married men (b) Those who plan long sojourns away from home or to other shores.

9. Attend church parties and those held by local organizations. There is a much better opportunity for romance.

In Good Taste

Gift Rather Than Money Suggested

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I was in an automobile accident some time ago and one of the passenger who saw the accident occurred gave his name and address and said that he would be a witness if necessary. My case came up recently and this man testified in my behalf and was instrumental in my winning the case. Should

I offer him a sum of money or buy him a present, or what? I would like to show my appreciation in some way.

Answer: You thank him most sincerely and hope some day to be able to do something for him. If you have seen and talked with him enough to know of a present that would please him, give it to him, but do not offer money.

Parents Separated

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have been separated for a year. I'm still calling myself Mrs. John Smith. My daughter is to be married soon and I'm wondering whether her father's name should be used with mine, since we are not divorced. If not, shall I use Mrs. John Smith or Mrs. Mary Smith on the invitations?

Answer: If the separation occurred when the boy is a local citizen who may be reminded of you occasionally, by meeting you at social gatherings.

10. Make friends with girls your own age who have old brothers. This is an excellent chance to advance your boy-meets-girl stock, and to keep in touch with the boys by seeing more of your girl friends at their homes.

is generally known, it would be misleading to include his name on the invitations with yours as it will give the impression that there has been a reconciliation, and in this particular case the invitations should go out in your name alone. Since you still call yourself Mrs. John Smith, that is the name which should appear on the invitations.

Country Shoes

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in good taste in a large city for a man to wear black and white or brown and white shoes during the summer months in a business office? There has been a good bit of controversy about this and I would appreciate your opinion on the matter.

Answer: They are not in good taste in a business office.

Teach Children to Know Dangers of Poison Ivy

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D.

One Sunday last fall I was out enjoying the beautiful day and the gorgeous fall coloring. Ahead of me on the path was an attractive young woman and several children. As I came abreast of them we smiled and passed a word about the day. The young woman showed me the lovely red gold leaves she had picked and called to one of the children to get that beautiful one on top of the wall.

I looked at the glowing colors in her hands that I too had been enjoying at a distance, but seeing them framing her face, she dropped her bouquet. "They are in the midst of it."

"Yes," I said, "they are." It couldn't be more obvious. A vivid picture popped into my mind. I saw each of those youngsters lying on a bed, each with a puffy face and swollen shut eyes and hands a mass of weeping blisters.

"I'm a doctor, lady," I said. "My car is at the end of the path. Call your children. I'll drive you home and all of you take good hot scrubbing baths with lots of soap and hot water. Put all your clothing in the wash."

"Oh, doctor, thank you," she said. "I didn't know."

On the way home she told me she'd never seen poison ivy in the fall and didn't know it when it wasn't green and shiny.

Doubtless this was true, but it's a pretty poor excuse. Poison ivy grows freely and abundantly in many areas of this country.

Know Poison Ivy You should know what it looks like at all times of the year and teach your children to avoid it. If you don't know it, look up pictures of it in the encyclopedia and make a point of getting some one to point it out to you outdoors.

Poison ivy is a vine, the leaves grow in clusters of three and they have a distinctive shiny appearance. But words alone cannot teach the look to you. You must see it and learn to recognize it.

In the early spring when the tender shoots are just appearing, springing up the plant is full of sap. It is then that it is most poisonous. Just brushing, Slipcovers that are no deeper than the beige of the walls would make the chairs look smaller, even though they are green or blue rather than matching beige. But blue this light might not be the right color if the sofa is much brighter and darker, and even a light green might be too light. You can use the beige and keep the lounge chair end of the room from looking colorless by splashing a blue pillow to match the sofa against the beige of each chair, or green ones as deep and bright as the sofa figure, and using prominent accessories and wall decorations.

Mrs. E. K. T. "Do you recall using a modern floor produced the wall covering lamp in a room that is completely styled in the 18th Century matchmate for upholstery, including antique furniture and accessories." We need light other table and table lamp, but can't find a floor lamp we like in anything but a modern design. Those which try to imitate period style look wrong."

The best designed floor lamps have classic simplicity that is at home anywhere, and if you find one that has quality to match the room's furnishings, it shouldn't strike a false note. Never sacrifice needed light for any reason.

Imaginative Lead Can Beat This Strong Hand

BY WILLIAM SEAMON

North-South are vulnerable. North deals.

| 4 D | Pass | 4 S | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

Opening lead:

Deuce of clubs.

The bidding looks very good, indeed. North's rebid of two hearts is a standard reverse bid which normally shows a very good hand and usually is treated as an unconditional 1-round force. Notice that North had an awkward bid that his reverse bid would force South to bid again.

South properly rebid his spade suit to show at least a 5-suit. Many players would prefer two no trump with the South hand but South had time later on for a no trump bid.

North now raised South to three spades — a sure sign that he had only three spades and South now bid his club control.

North was not certain just how South's hand was so he gave South a chance for a slam when he rebid his diamond suit. South felt that he had bid his all and signed off at four spades. West led the deuce of clubs.

East covered dummy's queen with the king and South took the ace. Declarer now led a small trump to the ace in dummy and returned with a small trump to his king. The ten of diamonds was cashed.

and a small diamond put dummy on lead. A high diamond was led on which South discarded a small heart as West ruffed with his high trump. West now cashed the ace of hearts and declarer claimed the balance of tricks to make five spades.

There is a serious error here and I hope that you have seen it.

The error is on the opening lead for an imaginative lead probably will beat this hand. The bidding practically "cried" for West to lead a small heart. West should know that the king of hearts will appear in dummy and the bidding marked North with a singleton club so a club lead can gain nothing. With a small heart lead, South normally will duck to his jack. East takes the queen and returns a heart. West wins the ace and gives East a ruff of the heart. West must still get a spade trick. Easy when you see the hands, isn't it?

Tip Helps Keep Little-Ironing Clothes Fresh

The secret to wash and wear garments that look crisp and unwrinkled even through many launderings is an occasional all-over pressing with the ironer, says the American Home Laundry Manufacturers' association.

Ironer pressure "professionally" restores the like-new finish and gives the garment a fresh start. When wash and wear is washed and dried automatically, only touch-up ironing at most, is needed on collars, facings, and other strategic points.

Superstitious Reader Asks Ann if Others are, Too

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: A psychology professor once told our class that people who are slaves to superstition are weak of mind and will. I consider myself neither yet I admit that I'll go out of my way to avoid a black cat and frequently I've gotten out of an Ann Landers comfortable chair to knock on a piece of wood.

I'd like to find out if I'm really an oddball or maybe a little sick. Would you ask your readers to write in and confess their pet superstition? It would help if I felt that thousands of others are also slaves. Maybe they'd feel better, too, unloading it.

Since your mail comes from all over you'd probably have the first post on the most popular superstition in America.—M.L. Nuts?

U. R. Not nuts. You're human. It's not true that a person who must knock on wood needn't reach any further than his head. Many highly intelligent people cling to superstitions. Such behavior is the result of early training; it is emotional not rational. Once they pick up the half-baked notion that they can protect themselves from calamity by simply knocking on wood, they are compelled to do it or suffer discomfort. I cordially invite readers to unload their superstitions on me. The results will be reported in this space.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I own an apartment building and most of my tenants are working girls. Before I rent I tell them I want only respectable people and won't stand for all night parties or men coming and going at odd hours of the morning.

I never had any trouble until two months ago when a regular tenant took in a roommate. This room mate has had men callers who stayed until 2:30 a.m. When I decided to straighten her out she was extremely rude. Her defense was "This is my home and no one is going to tell me how late to entertain guests."

I don't care how late these girls stay out, but I don't want men in my building till all hours. Do I have the right to insist on morality on my property?—Des Moines Home Owner

Dear Des Moines: There's a hole in your logic large enough to accommodate a horse. You don't get morally by insisting on it. By the time the gals move into your building, their standards of morality are well established. A landlady is not a licensed police matron in a house of correction. Your tenants are obliged to pay rent, keep your property in good condition and refrain from disturbing neighbors. Their personal life is their own.

DEAR ANN: We have swings and a slide in our back yard for our grandchildren when they visit. The neighbors on both sides have children between 5 and 11. They never ask if they can swing and slide, they just assume it's all right.

My husband and I don't wish to be mean but we can't watch these children to make sure they don't get hurt. They play rough and I'm afraid one day there'll be an accident. Could their parents sue us if something happened?—W. L.

Dear W. L.: I'm no attorney so don't accept this as legal gospel. However, we learned in a high school commercial law class that children's play equipment is considered an "attractive nuisance" and the owner may be responsible whether the kids were invited or not.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) (Copyright, 1959)

Couple Exchanges Promises

A double ring ceremony Saturday united Miss Audrey Jean Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo John Peters, route 2, Black Creek, and Eugene Henry Hooymann, son of Mr. Earl Arnold Hooymann, route 2, New London, in marriage. The rites were performed at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Black Creek, by the Rev. Elmer Becker.

The bride was given in marriage by her father at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony. Miss Verla Peters, Appleton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Donald Woelz, cousin of the bride, Kaukauna, was bridesmaid. Miss Barbara Peotter, Appleton, cousin of the bride was junior bridesmaid and Miss Carla Holz, Black Creek, another cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Royal A. Shephardson, Shiocton, was best man and Ronald Sievert, Black Creek, cousin of the bride, was groomsmen. Milton L. Peters, brother of the bride, Black Creek, was junior male attendant. Ringbearer was David Henning, Appleton, cousin of the bride.

Ushering the guests were Joseph Brillowski, Stevens Point, and Cyril Holz, Black Creek, cousin of the bride.

Romantic Historical Lore Surrounds Sturdy Tweed Fabric

The story of Tweed is as completely re-identify the romantic as history itself. Tweed industry. A quantity of Tweed was invoiced by Watson of Harwick to James Locke, a London merchant. The tweed was written illegibly, and the London merchant, undoubtedly thinking of the Tweed river and Tweed valley from whence his purchase had come, absent-mindedly misread the invoice and called the fabric "tweed."

And it has been so recorded and re-recorded throughout history. Today, Tweed is probably one of the most well-known international words in common usage throughout the world. And, since 1934 it not only represents the most beautiful of fabrics, but also a famous perfume.

Over the river Tweed, stand three famous bridges, one built in the 17th century for horsemen and coaches, one built more than 100 years ago for the tall-chimneyed railway trains of the 1840's, and one built between the last wars... the longest road-bridge in the country. The Tweed river perhaps, was made most famous by the immortal works of Sir Walter Scott who was born, lived and died in the lovely country surrounding the river and wrote much of its history and lore.

Because of Scotland's climate it has always been sheep country and so from early times the use of wool for clothing was commonplace. How the crafts of spinning and weaving started is still a mystery, however.

Common Twill
Scots identified weaving first as "Common Twill," and then just "Tweed." The word "Tweed" was applied even to the thread used in weaving. When the time came for old crafts to turn into industries, the need for power became a necessity. It was only logical, then, that it was in the Tweed valley that the greatest concentration of the woolen trade was found.

It was in 1840 that a famous error was made which was to

African Official First to Know Of Royal Baby

London—(AP)—An African nationalist premier—the first person outside Britain's royal household to know that Queen Elizabeth is expecting a baby—flew here today for a 2-day call on the monarch.

Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, premier of Ghana, was invited by the queen after she announced she would have to call off her visit to Ghana in November because she is expecting a baby.

Nkrumah was told last June about the baby. The rest of the world learned about it last week.

"I enjoyed keeping the secret," said Nkrumah today. He will spend tomorrow and Wednesday with the royal family at Balmoral castle, in Scotland.

Nkrumah said he probably will discuss the possibility of a substitute royal visit to Ghana—possibly by Prince Philip or Princess Margaret. He was to see Prime Minister Harold Macmillan later today.

Malayan Pandanus Makes Attractive Household Plant

By Katherine B. Walker

Some time ago, when we had a column on the old-time favorite Aspidistra, we were almost swamped with requests for columns on (and sources for) a wide variety of other "forgotten" plants.

Pandanus is a well-known plant that is no longer grown as much as it should be. Tough and durable, this plant came originally from Malaya where its leaves were used to fashion hats, mats, baskets, walls, or wherever their toughness and pliability was adaptable. Since the leaves of most species are armoured with sharp spines, I have nothing but admiration for the people who manipulate them so dextrously.

Grown as house plants, the spines of the Screw Pines, as most of the Pandanus are called, are not troublesome and in some varieties the colorful spines add much to the plants' beauty. Foliage grows in spiral rosette form; as the plant matures and lower leaves fall, the stout trunks often produce interesting bracelet roots to support the top-ivy, and they die within a while addition to your indoor garden even if you don't want to try their medicinal properties.

Questions and Answers

My house plants are getting out of hand, yet I can't bear to part with even one of my 50 plants. Is there any easy way to take care of this many?

I have found that the easiest way to care for large numbers of plants is to keep them grouped in one place as much as possible. I now use slatbenches in front of windows, with 16-inch-square baking pans on them. The pans are filled with a 2-inch layer of chicken grit. Once a week I water everything thoroughly from the top; the rest of the time, I just pour water over the gravel and let the pots soak up what they need.

I have a lovely indoor plant box in a south window, but nothing will grow there. I have tried all the easy things like philodendron and pothos and ivy, and they die within a Pandanus heavy weight. Leaves are long, tapered, and usually margined with white, yellow, or pale green. All in all, pandanus is attractive, long-lived, and a plant that will stand much abuse. Do get this oldtimer to add greater interest to your indoor garden; it requires only loamy soil, diffused light and not too much water to do its best.

Another old-timer we were asked about is Urginea maritima, the Giant Mediterranean Squill. This is sometimes called Sea Onion, although the name belongs more properly to Ornithogalum longibracteatum. (We had a "what-is-it" column on Sea Onion some time ago; nearly every reply included the information that the mashed leaves were a wonderful poultice for cuts, burns and sprains.) Both these unusual plants are available from a source on our Source Sheet, and would be a worth-anything? I suggest you quit trying to grow shade-loving plants in a southern exposure! There are many plants that would enjoy your plant box, among them abutilon, osmanthus, oxalis and marica. I have been given a Strelitzia (Bird-of-Paradise) that is now nine inches high. How can I care for it, and when will it flower? Give this plant moderate temperatures, loamy soil with humus added, as much sun as it can stand without scorching, and do not overwater. Bird-of-Paradise will eventually attain a height of about five feet, and will need to get nearly this large before flowering. Repot as necessary during growth to prevent the plant becoming root-bound, during its early growth. Feed liberally when it has attained its full height.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Freshman Fashions

Are you planning your first campus-bound wardrobe? If so, don't jitter about it, as most girls do. Bored up instead, on what the crowd will be wearing on campus. As an assist, here's a list of choices:

All-purpose, water-repellent trench coat, either full or 3-quarter length.

Tailored skirts—those with stitched down pleats being popular and practical.

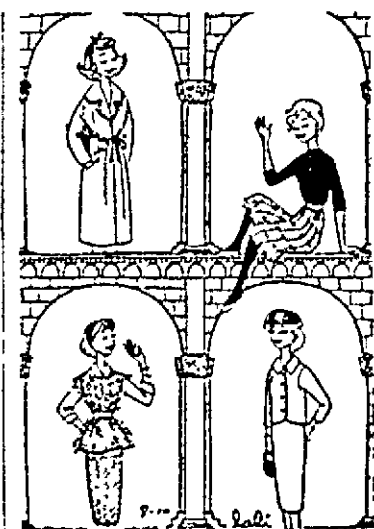

Bermuda shorts and tapered, ankle-length pants. Optional—a jump suit of a "skight" (skirt, tights and pullover).

To match or blend with skirts and pants, classic shirts and sweaters.

Jacket—a blazer, jerkin, hacking coat or that coming, a poncho.

Campus-city suit, a la Chanel or long-jacketed and lightly fitted.

Other points to remember are: Neutral and murky shades rate high in monotone fabrics; plaids and checks go on necklines, shoulders, vests, worsteds and shirtings. Rate A-plus. Reversible and crimp-dry fabrics are like money in the bank. Knits, too! What about date and formal clothes? The password.

In date dresses is "jacketed, slick and plushy." On formals, the word is "longer and lovelier."

Britain Wants to Resume Relations With Arab Republic

London—(AP)—The British government said today it has been consistently in favor of resuming normal diplomatic relations with President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

A foreign office spokesman made the statement when asked to comment on reports that a resumption of relations is under study. Diplomatic ties were broken off after the 1956 Suez war.

Colin Crowe, head of the British property mission in Egypt, had a friendly discussion in Cairo last week with Aly Sabri, UAR minister of presidential affairs. The foreign office spokesman said the two men reviewed UAR-British relations but that the reestablishment of full diplomatic ties was not specifically spelled out in their talks.

One of the Scenic Highlights of the Attic theater production of the farce "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" is the episode in a Chinese restaurant. From the left, Mrs. Gerald Thiel and Mrs. Donald Anderson made their appearance in pink and lavender wigs while Taketsugu Tsurutani and Yokio Ytahi lend an authentic touch to the Oriental surroundings.

Louder and Funnier

Pedestrian Pace Holds Attic Farce on Ground

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Each airplane has a certain speed it must attain before it becomes airborne. In theatercrafts, farce is the hottest ship of them all.

Saturday, the opening night audience saw the Attic theater crew take the farce, "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" on a pleasant amble down the runway and fail to get it airborne. Familiarity should increase the crew's success. Even at an amble, Norman Krasna's jumble was good fun, helped, of course, by the fact some of the players were able to get airborne, chiefly Tony Carrigan, Anne Glasner, James Auer, Urban Van Susteren and Carl Wenzel. Subject Matter Perhaps the subject matter fooled most of the cast into their serious mood. "WWT-LISYW" is the complicated Odyssey of a complex alibi covering an apparent marital infidelity resulting in an inter-

And CIA over the capture of a spy ring that includes a gun battle outside of a Chinese restaurant, an incident in an Empire State building elevator and incarceration in the boiler room of the building. Infidelity, our nation's intelligence services and foreign spies are serious considerations, but when they are put together facetiously it is best to keep going fast enough to blur analysis.

Unreal and Appropriate Carrigan, who plays the central cog in the whirligig, achieved the necessary comic-tragic tone that took the penitent husband out of ordinary context. He was helped in the allusion by Mrs. Glasner's somewhat light-headed wife bent on too much and misdirected help. They weren't real but they were right. Auer's aggressiveness also was beyond the ordinary pall and he helped inject the necessary unreality to the FBI-CIA feud to prevent it from being taken seriously. Van Susteren and Wenzel's menaces were amusing caricatures placed in perspective by Wenzel's fine dialect. Should Have Fun If the rest of the cast had broadened their interpretations and had as much fun as this quintet, the farce would have taken flight; but the general tone was so straight even the ensemble acting which usually marks Mrs. F. Theodore Cloak's show was uneven.

The show has 13 scene changes and eight different scenes, a monumental assignment for arena staging. With the new center's precise lighting and Maurice Stack's imagination the task was surmounted with the minimum of delay and confusion. Opening night came close to the expected Attic standards and disappointment at not seeing the quality of production Attic fans have come to anticipate may have magnified the flaws, which surely should be corrected as the show continues in its run. Krasna's experienced craftsmanship alone makes the show a pleasure to watch. With additional help from the entire cast, the production will return the Attic season to the high plane on which it started.

Personalized Pattern A-2160 Anthony Bloffa

It's a cape, it's a stole. For daytime or evening, it's indispensable. And this Anthony Bloffa design comes in not one but two styles, one sleekly collarless for evening, the other with a wide collar to wear with tailored clothes. Either one would make a nice at-home shawl, too, depending on the fabric used. Fur fabric is fun for the formal variety, or try velvet, satin, tweed, plaid or striped wool are recommended for the collared model. From this size chart select the one size best for you.

Size MEDIUM requires 11 yards of 54 inch material without nap for Style I, with collar, 14 yards of 54 inch material with nap for Style II, 13 yards of 39 inch material for lining Style I or II. Automatic Drying Saves Wear 'n Tear

Have you taken a good look at last summer's dress or blouse and decided that it was much brighter and smarter last year? It could be your laundering is at fault, says the American Home Laundry Manufacturers' association. Research shows striking differences in color safety of dryer-dried garments compared with line-dried, even when hung in the shade. Even "problem" blues and reds are perfectly safe in the gentle care of an automatic clothes dryer.

Another tip: If colors bleed, and soil permits, use the cold water setting of the automatic washer. With washer and dryer care, your family's summer washables will keep their poster-bright colors through a season of hard wear.

Herbert Hoover Devotes Long Life to Service of Country

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York — There have been plenty of changes in this world since 1874 when on Aug. 10, Herbert Hoover was born in a Iowa village called West Branch. His parents were Quakers; his father a blacksmith, his mother a Leland Stanford University seamstress. The parents died young and Herbert was sent to live with relatives, finally settling down in Oregon.

This then is a proletarian beginning for a man who has been described during most of his career as the stereotypical type of American capitalism. No state aided him. No government supported him. He was what we today like to call underprivileged, but he was a strong farm boy, sturdy and willing to work, with a sharp mind and a capacity to make his way. He managed to get enough education to what was then called a Leland Stanford University and he worked on all sorts of projects, many of his own devising, so that he could pay for his needs. Typically, he ran a newspaper route and a laundry route and he worked summers for the Geological Survey of the United States.

Successful Engineer
Thus, Herbert Hoover became a mining engineer. He married a geologist, Lou Henry, and together they set off to work in all parts of the world. His success in his own field and in business was immediate and continuous. Herbert Hoover got into politics by accident rather than by design. He was the leading American permanent-domiciled in London at the outbreak of World War I and was therefore invited by Ambassador Wailer Hines Page to assist the large number of

Unpopular President
And here the simplicities of a Quaker upbringing intervened. Herbert Hoover could tolerate no conflict of interest. When he was working for himself and his family, he did well and amassed a fortune. Now that he faced public service, he felt it essential to divest himself of conflicting assets. From that day in 1914 when he undertook to serve the people and governments, he avoided private involvements of any kind. Fortunately, he could afford to work without compensation and that he has done ever since. Hoover was an unpopular president, although he received an enormous vote. The times required him to compromise his judgments and when once or twice he did compromise, particularly with the late Sen. Borah, it turned out that he erred. A man who has a philosophy of life, must guide himself according to those principles.

Model Train Does Good Job in Laboratory
Portland, Maine — Robert G. Basbas, manager of a radio service laboratory, was faced with the costly problem of improving the firm's office efficiency. He found an inexpensive solution in his son's toy box. Basbas considered pneumatic tubes or a cable system too expensive for conveying shipping orders, bills and other interoffice papers between departments. So he installed a model electric train that runs from the back shop to the front office through stock rooms, hauling the business of the day. Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. *Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Little Chute Shows Valuation Increase

$158,705 Rise In Assessments Told for 1959

Little Chute—A total increase of $158,705 in assessed valuation for 1959 has been reported by Nick Vanderpas, assessor.

Assessed valuation of the village is listed at $5,620,070 compared with $5,461,365 a year ago.

The board of review recently completed its checking of the assessment roll. In six sessions only five property owners appeared before the board to question their assessments. Vanderpas reported there was no general increase in effect this year, however, minor adjustments were made on land values in newly developed areas.

Major Increase
Major portion of the increase over last year was in residential improvements. This figure jumped by $133,725 increasing from $3,562,150 in 1958 to $3,695,875 this year. Construction of 27 new homes accounted for the greatest part of the rise.

The only category to show a decrease was manufacturing improvements. This category dropped from $252,600 in 1958 to $245,100 this year for a decrease of $7,500.

Residential land increased from $650,975 in 1958 to $663,650 this year for a rise of $12,675. Mercantile land jumped by $500 from $69,900 to $70,400 and mercantile improvements went from $484,575 in 1958 to $491,900 this year for an increase of $7,325.

Manufacturing land remained unchanged at $3,025 and timber also stayed at $500, the same as the previous year.

Agricultural land showed a slight increase from $77,025 in 1958 to $77,075 and agricultural improvements were up from $41,900 in 1958 to $42,125 this year for a jump of $225.

Personal property went from $312,715 last year to $330,420 this year for an increase of $17,705.

4 New Home Permits Out At Kimberly

Kimberly—Four new home permits in July have raised the total for the year to 32, according to Eugene Hietpas, building inspector.

Estimated cost of the four structures is $56,000 and this takes that figure for the year to $407,600.

Permits were issued to James H. Williams for a $14,000 home on Joseph street, to Anthony Van Hout for a $17,000 home at 315 Sidney street, to August Mielke for a $15,000 home at 327 Railroad street and to Thomas Vande Hey for a $10,000 home at 909 W. Fourth street.

Other permits issued included nine for garages with a total estimated cost of $6,224 and nine for additions or alterations amounting to $6,345.

Volunteer Firemen's Talks Set in Freedom

Freedom—Ray Marx of Azco Fire Protection, Inc., will address a meeting of the Northeastern Wisconsin Volunteer Firemen's safety league here at 8 p. m. Thursday at the village firehouse.

Volunteer firemen from five counties will attend the session.

National Honor Pin Count Hit At Little Chute

Little Chute—Ethel Van Nuland rolled the first National Honor count in history at the Recreation alleys with a 602 series.

However, the high count will not go into the record books as it was not in sanctioned league bowling. Mrs. Van Nuland rolled the top set in a match game.

Ethel, veteran bowler in the village, hit games of 233, 214 and 155 while posting the honor set.

Joseph Keynebeau, owner of the alleys, said it was the first women's honor score at the lanes. Two years ago Miss Helen Koehn rolled a 599 series.

Leaders Hold Positions in Kaukauna Cage League

Kaukauna—Leading teams held their positions in the summer basketball leagues sponsored by the recreation department.

In the Professional loop Western division the Lakers have a 5-1 record and hold first place. They edged the Royal 44 to 42 in a thriller. The Royals are second with a 3-3 record.

The Hawks posted a 60 to 49 victory over the Pistons. The Hawks have a 2-3 mark while the Pistons are in the cellar with a 1-4 record.

Leading Scorer
LeRoy Weyenber is the leading scorer in the circuit with 119 points, well ahead of Bill Borchardt the runnerup with 75 markers.

In the Eastern division the Knicks have a 4-1 record for first place with the Celtics second with a 4-2 mark. The Nats are 3-3 and the Warriors have lost five straight.

The Nats scored a 42 to 41 victory over the Warriors and the Knicks beat the Celtics 57 to 48. Ed Vanden Heuvel is the top scorer with 85 points while L. Geutzman has 64.

Minor League
In the Minor League Western division the Raiders and the Indians are tied for first place with 5-2 marks while the Redmen are third with 3-4 and the Terrors have a 1-6 record.

The Redmen scored a double overtime 21 to 20 victory over the Raiders and the Indians drubbed the Terrors 29 to 2.

The Eastern division has Gary Weigman leads the league in scoring with 70 points followed by Mike Andrews with 68.

Population Increase For State Predicted

Future Should See Continuing Urbanization, UW Professor Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—The recent rate of growth of the population of Wisconsin and its steady urbanization will continue through the next decade or decade and a half, the state's best known population analyst has concluded.

The report comes from Prof. Douglas Marshall of the University of Wisconsin in his latest study of the state's population changes and prospects.

Prof. Marshall says the total population of the state is likely to exceed 4,000,000 in 1960, and can reach 4,456,000 in 1965, and 4,826,000 in 1970.

Lists Estimates
A "high" estimate for 1975 would be 5,196,000, he said in his latest study. The state was credited with 3,976,000 inhabitants in January of this year.

Prof. Marshall also offered his "medium" and "low" calculations for Wisconsin population trends.

A low estimate would be 4,218,000 for 1965, and 4,618,000 for 1975, he said.

The analyst's report was restrained, and noted that in recent years there has been a heavier migration of residents out of the state. The migration has been overcome, however, through an excess of births over deaths during that period. Without that higher birth rate in recent years, the state would have lost population since 1940, he explained.

Sees Expansion
Dr. Marshall believes the expansion of cities and their suburbs through the draining of surplus population from the rural areas, which has changed Wisconsin economic and social characteristics profound-

Second Annual Baby Picnic Set Aug. 20 At New Holstein Park

Chilton—The second annual baby alumni picnic sponsored by the members of the Calumet Memorial Hospital auxiliary will be held Aug. 20 at the New Holstein civic park.

Purpose of the outing is to bring together all the babies born at Calumet Memorial hospital, Chilton, since it opened its doors in 1956. There will be gifts for each child and in addition prizes will be distributed in drawings, and ice cream and cookies will be served.

The committee in charge of the arrangements this year are Mrs. Robert Lutz, Mrs. Heinrich Gaertner and Mrs. Martin Kronick, all of New Holstein.

ly in the last generations, is very likely to continue.

The impact of that migration will also be felt in the age and sex distribution of the population. There will be more males than females in the farm population, and more females in the towns and cities.

Shamrock Upset in Kaukauna Softball Loop, Shermys Wins

Kaukauna—Shermy's Barbershop took over first place in the City Softball league as Shamrock Bar was upset by Arnie's Bar in latest action.

Shermys defeated Kappell's Tavern by a 9 to 3 score and Arnie's tripped Shamrock 9 to 7.

B. Simon pitched a 4-hitter to lead Shermys to the win over Kappells. D. Mitchler took the loss. Shermys scored three in the first and four in the third to grab an early lead. They added a pair in the fifth to round out the scoring.

Kappells counted one in the second and two in the last frame. Wayne Welch and Pahl paced the hitting attack for for the losers.

Cauterization of Cervix No Fad, Sometimes Necessary

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor advised me to have my cervix 'burned' six weeks after my baby was born, as he said it was eroded. It seems that every woman I have talked to has had to have this done, so I'm wondering if it is a new fad which is unnecessary.—Reader."

Look, dear "Reader," I'm discussing your letter because I have some more which ask the same, or similar questions. By and large, I throw away unsigned letters, but I'm using yours as an opportunity to tell everybody how to sign letters when written to me.

I do not use (or reveal) names. My customary practice is to use just initials, and sometimes I even scramble them. If, for reasons of your own, you don't want your initials used, then sign your real name, and underneath that, put down any initials you prefer. I'll use the initials only. And now to work.

The cervix is the neck of the womb which projects into the vagina. Normally it is a rather thick structure although during childbirth, of course, it is stretched and thinned out.

May be Torn
Under such circumstances the cervix may be torn, either because of the size of the baby, or because of the speed of the delivery. Or, of course, there may be a bit of tearing or stretching in a perfectly average birth. You can't help it.

Sometimes immediate suturing (maybe a stitch or so) is required. More often, with small lesions, the cervix heals by itself.

If such a bit of damage does not heal by itself, an ulcer can form. This is "erosion of the cervix." These ulcers may presently heal anyway but then again they may become infected—as a sore toe or finger may become infected.

Chronic Irritation
The net result is chronic irritation, and a certain amount of discharge which often worries patients all out of reason, since they don't know the cause. (It's not the only cause, of course.)

I want to add, plainly, that childbirth isn't the only thing that can cause a small ulcer if such a mucous surface. Any woman may encounter it, just as anyone can acquire a sore spot in the throat or small ulcer of the nose.

As a rule topical treatment (applying some medicine to the ulcer) is not very successful. "Burning," as it is often called, or cautery or cauterizing or conization, removes the damaged superficial cells, and allows a regrowth of new, solid tissue.

As with any moderate ulcer, you may suffer along with it for a long time and realize later that immediate treatment would have been wiser. More important, the cervix seems to be a type of tissue that is subject to cancer, so it is much better to avoid extended irritation of it. That's perhaps the best reason for cauterizing these ulcerated spots.

You perhaps never considered this reason, but this is a sound one for the 6-week "checkup" after a baby is born. By then the cervix has returned to normal size, and if an erosion spot persists, it can be detected and treated.

No, cautery of these erosions is not a fad. It's simple, useful and wise. And if you find that "every woman I have talked to" has had it, it might be because you talk to many mothers. It's not a rare thing at all.

Not Medicine
Mrs. R. S.: Apple cider vinegar for "neuritis and general fatigue." I have nothing against vinegar, but pretending that it is a medicine is in the same class with depending on good luck charms to treat what ails you. There is no substitute for finding out what causes a specific trouble, and then treating it.

Eat Raw Potato
"Potato Rug": I can't see any reason why you shouldn't eat a raw potato every day if you find it tasty. It certainly has no connection with that other trouble you mentioned.

Rockefeller Uses Brilliant Strategy

Employs Public Opinion as Tool To Beat Nixon in Campaign

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — With perfect politeness, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is reaching for Vice President Richard Nixon's jugular vein.

Rockefeller's disclosure that he will contest Nixon for the presidential nomination only if the public opinion polls are kind to him has hit the Nixon forces hard in their one vulnerable spot.

The vice president has said that the one danger was by way of an appeal not to organization Republicans but to the public by way of a personal popularity contest. The vague factors of like and dislike—the way a man smiles or combs his hair — have immense effect on the polls. The Rockefeller people, therefore, are striking at Nixon in an area where his powerful position, and his success in his Russian mission, will not necessarily arm him quite enough.

Skirting Risk
They are doing this to skirt the risk of candidly hitting Nixon over the head. They have left themselves free to say that Nixon is the finest possible fellow, but isn't it too bad the polls indicate he can't win?

This blandly adroit Rockefeller strategy basically is the same by which from 1940 onward the professional Republicans have been overcome at every national convention. The results have been the repeated selection of presidential nominees like Wendell Willkie and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Something new, however, has been added. The Rockefeller approach is so prepared that the try can be made without drawing a visible sword against Nixon. Thus, Rockefeller people are trying to neutralize their greatest obstacle. This was the disinclination of many GOP politicians to break with Nixon, lest theirs seem an act of utter rebellion punishable if Nixon should triumph.

Can't Convict Him
But you can hardly convict a man as a revolutionary if he is not really opposing you, but only is awaiting the word of the people as to whom ought to be nominated. No one should write off Nixon; he remains the favorite by a wide margin.

Rockefeller forces obviously are going to be doing many things to influence polls this fall. So will the Nixon forces. And the Nixon people will tax and report it every three months. Your son can call at any social security office or a blank can be mailed to him. It is not necessary that he furnish his birth certificate.

Q. My question pertains to lawyers with no social security coverage before the profession was covered. What is the earliest date at which a lawyer would have enough social security credit to be eligible for disability insurance benefits?

A. Lawyers were first covered on a self-employed basis in 1956. The minimum number of quarters required for disability insurance benefits is 20. Therefore, Oct. 1, 1960, is the earliest date on which a lawyer could have the 20 quarters required for disability insurance benefits.

Q. I heard someone say that social security protection could be worth $50,000 to a young family man. Is that true?

A. Yes, maximum benefits are now $254 a month. If a father died leaving a young widow, a 1 year old child, and in the honeymoon period at newly born twins, the family could receive $254 a month for 17 years, $232 a month for 1 year, plus a lump sum death payment of $255. This adds up to $54,855.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 401 S. Elm street, Appleton.

have the advantage of operating with a national figure. The national convention still is nearly a year away and Nixon will have to take public positions on national issues. Rockefeller will still be in the honeymoon period at newly born twins, the family could receive $254 a month for 17 years, $232 a month for 1 year, plus a lump sum death payment of $255. This adds up to $54,855.

More Luster From Golden, Homespun Sage of Carolinas

BY W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Art Editor

("For 2 Cents Plain," by Harry Golden, World, $4.) The 175 more pieces in this book, again introduced by Golden's southern neighbor, Carl Sandburg, will add more luster to the already lustrous homespun fame of the author of "Only in America."

In fact, they did even before release date — before theoretically it could be sold — it was on some best-seller lists. The publisher shipped his advance printing of 60,000 copies and booksellers couldn't wait to display it. This book celebrates two attitudes that really occur "only in America." One is the prospect from New York's lower east side, where Golden was brought up. He says: "I may have inadvertently repeated myself a few times, of course, but, on the other hand, I haven't really begun. The quarter of a million words I have written to date are only by way of introduction."

The other is the view from North Carolina where he is editor of the Carolina Israelite — and we hope he gets better than a quarter million words there, too.

Random Pictures
These are random pictures and reflections — the horse-radish man, the 3-cent shine, pumpernickel, the peddler, the happy days when you could buy more groceries than you could carry for $4, and the sodawater stands where you got a small glass for a penny, a large "for 2 cents plain," and always hoped the man would add a drop of syrup.

"We were happier when mother emptied the drip pan under the icebox," he says, implying comfort is not all. He believes "20 soup kitchens might have prevented the French Revolution," meaning that compromise helps. He claims, "the white man has paid a bigger price for segregation than the Negro." He asks why we groom a best man to send to the moon when we need him most right here.

Other Topics
There are unforgettable ironic stories about racial prejudice; wonderful comments on politicians, statesmen, Shakespeare, Darrow, Swope; killing digs at conservatism, superhighways and a score of other matters.

One of his best stories concerns the oldtime Associated Press reporter who interviewed Sarah Bernhardt and so delighted her that she kissed him on each cheek, once for each paper he represented locally; he at once reminded her he wrote for 380 other papers in that area, too.

Commentator, cracker-barrel pundit, sage, philosopher — it's hard to find one word for a man whose thought ranges so surely so far so deep so entertainingly. This is the heady drink for 2 cents plain but with syrup too.

"Now I'm regular every morning!"

Luther Howes, Springfield, Mo., has found the common-sense way to correct constipation caused by lack of bulk. He writes: "Five or six months ago I was taking laxatives. Now I don't need anything but Kellogg's All-Bran to keep me regular every morning."

Millions of others are making the same discovery. Kellogg's All-Bran is effective because it is a natural, bulk-forming cereal food. Just a half-cup serving with milk each day gives you all the good food bulk required for youthful regularity.

Try Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days — let it work for you, too.

Industry Needs Broad Tax Base, Mayor Says

Fox Valley Labor Delegates Hear Inducements for New Companies

Green Bay—A tax base that fails to produce sufficient revenues is one of the major stumbling blocks in attracting new industry to Wisconsin.

That was the opinion of Mayor Roman Denissen, speaking before about 50 delegates of the Fox River Valley Conference of Laborers meeting at the Labor Temple Saturday night.

Delegates represented labor councils in Green Bay, Beaver Dam, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc, Oshkosh and Two Rivers. The meeting was initiated by the labor group as part of a drive to induce more industry to locate in cities where labor unions are part of the Fox Valley organization.

Inducements Read

A list of 13 "inducements" the member cities have to offer industry, was read by Louis J. Bellin, president of the Greater Green Bay Labor Council. These community resources will be studied by the various labor groups among their respective councils and final reports will be made at the next meeting in Waupun on Sept. 26.

Everyone attending agreed the plan had merit, and should receive the strong support of not only labor, but management and governmental leaders as well.

Attention was called to the fact that Gov. Nelson plans to call an industrial conference in Milwaukee sometime this winter. It was suggested that the Fox Valley labor group make an effort to participate in the planning and activities of that conference.

Local Views

Mayor Denissen was invited to give views of a local government on the need for development of a wider program to attract industry to a community.

Three examples of metropolitan government in the Green Bay area were described by Denissen as the combination of aldermen-supervisor post, held by one individual, and the new Brown county arena and golf course.

"By sharing those costs on a countywide basis, we have reduced the tax load on the central municipality in the area," he noted.

The mayor pointed to the early benefits being reaped from the St. Lawrence Seaway, and said that Green Bay's tonnage is far above that for the same period before the advent of the seaway.

Denissen promised that he would carry the story of the industrial drive by the Fox Valley Labor Council to representatives of all Wisconsin municipalities at the state meeting of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities in Green Bay in September.

Bellin then read a telegram from Gov. Nelson commending the labor council on its efforts to promote industrial development and pledging the support of all state departments in support of the movement.

Bellin also read his list of inducements which asked what industry wants in a community before it moves in.

Among the questions were: solid tax structure, special assessments, transportation, utilities, water supplies, educational facilities, recreation areas, law enforcement, communications, hospitals, churches, marketing facilities, and an interested labor market.

He also asked delegates to find out whether there should be special tax exemptions for industry, need for industrial parks, and whether a special revenues taxes should be levied to reduce the over-all tax load.

Outagamie Board Faces Routine Session

The Outagamie county board holds its August meeting Tuesday with little but routine business before it.

Hanging fire until Gov. Gaylord Nelson signs a new bill is the combined Appleton county civil defense post. Ordinances drawn by City Atty. Don Jure and Corp. Counsel Raymond Dohr are to be prepared after the state law permitting a joint city-county CD post is signed. The change has come up for discussion at every county board meeting since the joint effort was approved several months ago.

Appleton has no civil defense director. Coordinator Andrew J. Schiltz remains in his county post.

Hit-Run Reported

Bear Creek — John Roberts, Bear Creek, reported to county police the car he was driving was sideswiped about 9:32 p. m. Saturday on Highway 76 by a driver who failed to stop after the accident. Damage was minor.

Mayor Mitchell Back on the Job

Mayor Clarence Mitchell has been released from St. Elizabeth hospital and is back on the job.

Mitchell was in the hospital about a week. He entered Thursday, July 30, suffering a blood clot in the left leg, and was released Friday.

The illness occurred while the mayor was visiting industrial park sites in Chicago. He is returning to Chicago today to sign the latest city bond issue.

She is survived by a son, Donald, with whom she lived; a daughter, Mrs. Oscar Newborg, Tomahawk; three brothers, Gunter, Anton and Carl Dobbe, all of the town of Appleton; and two grandchildren.

Dell J. Downey

Relatives and friends have learned of the death of Dell J. Downey, 75, a former Mackville resident, at Spokane, Wash.

Downey moved from Mackville 44 years ago. He is survived by two sisters in Spokane and one brother, Emmett, Marinette. Funeral services and burial were in Spokane.

Siminofsky Services

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Sunday at the Bretschneider Funeral home for Mrs. Ida Siminofsky, 84, of 506 N. Superior street, who died in Appleton 8 a. m. Saturday after a long illness.

Burial was in Moses Montefiore cemetery, with Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein officiating. Born in Russia, Mrs. Siminofsky came to the U. S. when she was 15. She lived in Appleton the last 54 years after moving here from New York.

Survivors include one son, Bernard Sims, Milwaukee, and two grandchildren.

Survivor Omitted

Mrs. Edward Klarner, Seymour, mother of Mrs. Edward Jach, 38, Seymour, who died Friday of injuries received in an auto-truck collision in Green Bay Wednesday, was omitted from a list of survivors in Saturday's Post-Crescent. Three children of Mrs. Jach were injured in the accident but are reported improving at a Green Bay hospital. James, 17, has internal injuries; Bonnie, 15, received a fractured spine; and Rosemary, 13, has a broken leg.

City Police Report Two Minor Traffic Crashes Over Weekend

There were two minor traffic accidents in Appleton over the weekend, police reported today.

Roy G. Raess, 46, 3271 N. Division street, was driver of a car which struck a parked Kochon Plywood and Veneer company, Inc., truck at 302 W. Franklin street, about 9:37 p. m. Sunday. Police said the truck was parked in a loading zone.

Richard Albrecht, 1510 N. Onelda street, told police he was the driver of a car which struck three barricades and two lanterns on E. Wisconsin avenue at St. Therese Catholic school about 9 p. m. Sunday.

The investigating officer reported the barricades were hard to distinguish, lights blending with nearby signs, and ordered the street department to set out lighted pots as flares.

Mayor Asks New Date for Police Hearing

Mayor Clarence Mitchell has asked for a postponement of the Tuesday hearing on handling of a complaint by the Appleton police department because he is unable to attend the hearing.

Mitchell, the city clerk and treasurer will be in Chicago Tuesday executing bonds for the city. The hearing was scheduled informally for 7 p. m. Tuesday at a public safety committee meeting.

The complaint was made by Ald. Roy Pointer, who said he wanted an answer to why it took police eight days to follow up a case in which a teenage knifewielder threatened a father and his 7-year-old son.

Question Police Chief Ald. Thomas K. Schneider, chairman of the public safety committee, told Pointer he could attend the meeting and ask Police Chief Walter Hendricks any questions he wanted.

Schneider was not available for comment on the mayor's request for postponement.

It is reported the knifewielding incident occurred July 29 on S. Mueller street, one of several streets leading to the north side of Pierce park, where a recreation department dance was in progress.

Ivo Lamers, 33, 724 S. Mueller, the father who says he was threatened, said he reported immediately to a policeman stationed at the Pierce park gate.

Chief Hendricks Friday stated the matter had not come to his attention until he received a letter Tuesday from Richard A. Mathews, 804 S. Mueller, notifying him of the lack of follow up.

Daughter of Former College President Lawrence Graduate Writes Green Bay Historical Book

A historical novel, "The Coveted Land," set against the background of Green Bay at the time of the War of 1812, has come from the Dorrance and Company press of Philadelphia.

Author of the novel is Florence Plantz Gochnauer of Green Bay, daughter of Dr. Samuel Plantz, who was president of Lawrence college from 1894 to 1924.

A publisher's note on the writer states: "Florence Plantz Gochnauer grew up in Appleton and attended Lawrence college there where her father, Samuel Plantz, was one of two names commemorated in Lawrence college's graduation, she married Har- Memorial chapel and an en-ry W. Gochnauer, an engineer, dowed chair was also estab-lished in her honor.

When they moved to Green-

Bay, two children occupied her time as well as may organizations and civic affairs in which she was very active.

"While serving on the board of the Green Bay Historical society, she became interested in history. After much reading and a great deal of research, 'The Coveted Land' was written. Mrs. Gochnauer and her husband spend their winters in Dunedin, Fla., and the summer months in Wisconsin."

The author's sister, Mrs. Adam C. Remley, lives at 225 River drive. Their mother, Myra Goodwin Plantz, was a prolific writer of poems, stories and three novels, and did evangelistic work with Francis Willard before her marriage to Dr. Plantz. Hers is father, Samuel Plantz, was president for 30 years. After Lawrence college's graduation, she married Har-nize the nation for the benefit of his corrupt empire.

"I wasn't sent to congress to turn the country over to Hoffa. His sordid activities would not be possible except for the extraordinary power he wields through such devices as the hot cargo clause which you also, by coincidence, defend. This power must be restricted. I will work and vote toward that end," Byrnes wrote.

Byrnes pointed out that a committee report signed by members of both parties last week described Hoffa as using union money for his own benefit and consistently supporting the interests of racketeer friends over union members. Byrnes also noted that the committee last year reported that Hoffa used his union office to break a Teamsters strike against a Flint, Mich., firm to enhance his own position.

"Want Special Treatment

A major point of disagreement in the Byrnes - Terry exchange is Byrnes' support of legislation to forbid truck drivers from rejecting loads of firms on strike, the so-called hot cargo clause.

"You and Hoffa want the law to permit the teamsters to say whether, and under what terms, a public carrier shall serve the public. You want the law to recognize Hoffa and his racketeer pals as a special class of citizens with power to get what they want at the expense of all the rest of us.

"You would let Hoffa have life and death control over our entire economy, free to tyrannize the nation for the benefit of his corrupt empire.

Paper Industry Output Booming

Article Says Boom May Take
Up Slack for Lean 1957, '58

The U.S. paper and board industry now is operating at a high level that promises to compensate for the slackening in 1957 and 1958, and, if maintained, to enable producers to reach the goals for 1960 and 1965 that had been projected before the setback, an article in the issue of Paper Mill News reports.

A report prepared for congress by the Forest Products division, Business and Defense Services Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, said "on the basis of historical performance and current trends," the 1960 estimate—36.5 million tons—and that for 1965—43.8 million tons—could be attained.

Currently, 1959 output is at an annual rate of 33.8 million tons, or close to 10 per cent over 1958. The figures for 1958 were slightly over 1957, but, with the economy in a downturn, under the peak year of 1956.

Expanding Capacity
The report shows also that expanding capacity is keeping abreast of the climbing output. Capacity for 1958 was rated at 35.7 million tons, and by 1961 is estimated as high as 39 million tons.

Paperboard production for the first six months of 1959 was 16.6 per cent greater than the comparable period last year, Albert W. Luhrs, executive manager, National Paperboard association, announced.

Average weekly shipments through June 27 was 306,700 tons compared with 263,100 tons during the same period of 1958. Second quarter production was 6.8 per cent higher than the first quarter of 1959.

If the present rate continues 1959 will be a record year with 15.9 million tons of paperboard produced, Luhrs declared. The previous record year was 1956, when the paperboard mills turned out 14.4 million tons.

Parents of Working Children Who Died Can Claim Benefits
Before a recent change in the social security law, many parents who had been supported by working sons or daughters who had died could not qualify for dependent parents' benefits. Surviving dependent parents could not be paid parents' benefits if the worker was survived by a spouse, or a child, who might be eligible for survivors' benefits. This restriction was removed by congress last year and dependent parents' benefits became payable to mothers at 62 and to fathers at 65.

Such parents who apply before the end of September, 1959, may be paid benefits for all months back to September, 1958, but those who wait until after this September, will lose checks for one or more months.

American Aid Helping to Rebuild Road to Mandalay

BY DAVID LANCASHIRE

Rangoon, Burma — (AP) — American aid is rebuilding the road to Mandalay.

The United States is giving $37 million in grants to Burma—$7 million now and $30 million over the next four years—for a modern highway to the former royal city and new facilities for the University of Rangoon.

Total costs of the completed projects is expected to reach 60 to 75 million dollars. Some $15 million will probably come from sales of U. S. surplus agricultural commodities here to the Burmese, soon to be discussed.

The highway program is the first in U. S. grant of aid requested or accepted by Burma since 1953, when the Burmese government abruptly terminated a $20 million program. Major factor in the termination was that U. S.-supported nationalist China was lethargic in withdrawing 10,000 remnant Chinese troops from northeast Burma. About 1,500 to 2,000 of the Kuomintang guerrillas are still active in the area.

Aid to Nation
Kipling's celebrated "Road to Mandalay" was the Irrawaddy river. But the land route now is a sunbaked, 400-mile stretch of broken pavement, gravel and dirt running through cactus and dusty villages to the seat of the ancient kings in middle Burma.

The rebuilt road, requested by Gen. Ne Win's government, will provide a needed boost to Burma's badly run down transport system. Army officers say it will also greatly increase the mobility of Burma's military forces, a factor which will no doubt be duly noted by communist China, which sits on 1,000 miles of open border to the north.

The aid package will also provide new buildings for an intermediate college for Rangoon university. It will be separate from the main campus, which the government says has recently been troubled by communist elements.

"We are taking a great interest in the university," said one of Ne Win's army colonels. "It will be a seat of learning instead of a seat of communism."

Assessor Reports $126,086 Decrease In Village Valuation

Freedom — A decrease of $126,086 in assessed valuation has been reported by Assessor Clyde Weyenberg.

Total assessed valuation this year is $3,193,225, compared to $3,319,311 in 1958. Real estate valuation is $2,564,420 and personal property $628,805.

Missile Site Construction Demands Precision Work

The construction requirements of intercontinental ballistic missile bases are a plumber's nightmare and a surgeon's dream, states an engineering publication.

Nearly half the cost of a $30 million Atlas base or a $45 million Titan launcher is absorbed by the maze of valves, tanks, pumps and piping of the propellant loading system. And each item must be cleaner and more sterile than a hospital surgery to prevent the powerful fuels from exploding.

Contractors working on the Atlas site at Warren Air Force Base near Cheyenne, Wyo., have learned the space age plumbing lesson first hand.

Liquid oxygen, helium, nitrogen and kerosene are the four fuels the loading system handles. All are dangerous.

A demonstration is given to all workers on the project to emphasize the danger. A fragment of tobacco, a bit of lint and a bead of sweat are successively dropped into small phials of liquid oxygen. An explosion occurs in each case.

As much fabrication and assembly work on the fueling system as possible is done in a windowless, insulated, off-site plant under close dust and temperature control.

Thoroughly Cleaned
Each part of the launchers' intricate networks of pipe, valves and instruments is bathed in several types of acid and cleaning agent after fabrication.

They are examined for sterility and cleanliness with black light, electronic probes and wipe tests and then sealed into polyethylene bags.

Workers are not permitted to smoke or eat in the assembly areas and all employees wear plastic gloves to prevent fingerprinting the parts. In the cleaning section, employees wear lintless clothing of hard linen or nylon, rubber shoes and linen headcloths—a speck of dandruff conceivably could blow up a missile.

Cubans Look to Castro Amid Invasion Rumors

ident Armando Camas Melanes of the Cuban Cattle Raisers' association, were seeking habeas corpus writs for their release.

A similar roundup was staged last month just before the anniversary of Castro's 20th of July revolutionary movement. At that time military and civilian detainees were estimated to total 1,500. A majority of them were released quietly two days after the celebration of the anniversary.

Families of a number of civilians seized over the weekend, including that of Presi-

Fla., a Cuban-born naturalized American wounded and arrested July 25, led to the roundup.

Police ambushed Del Pino's rented plane when he landed on a highway outside Havana. An old revolutionary comrade of Castro, he is accused of plotting against the government. A national police spokesman said his conviction might mean death before a firing squad.

Del Pino broke with Castro in 1956 after the bearded revolutionary leader accused him of tipping Mexican authorities of a Castro plan to send an expedition to Cuba.

Castro charged that Del Pino betrayed him for $10,000.

Camp Libertad just outside Havana, where a number of those arrested were reported being questioned was closed off to civilians. By midnight even telephone calls went unanswered.

Plot Frustrated

This was the picture given by the unconfirmed report: An anti-government plot was nipped at an army camp near Managua, about eight miles south of Havana. This brought about mass arrests there and at Camp Libertad of military personnel held over from deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista's army.

Small armed hands from the Dominican Republic landed by sea and transport plane late Friday and early Saturday in a futile effort to free prisoners on the Isle of Pines. Castro forces broke up both attempts and captured a number of the raiders.

Twenty-eight mechanics of the rebel air force are being held at Camaguey after the crash of a bomber that killed the pilot and injured two others. Rebel troops there have been restricted to quarters.

Two conspirators were killed and 15 others captured in a battle with rebel troops at Cienfuegos.

Although Raul Castro, Fidel's brother and commander in chief of the armed forces, denied invasion attempts had been made, reliable sources insisted that counter-revolutionaries made the attempts on the Isle of Pines. Radio-telephone communications with the island were out, but commercial air connections were normal.

ed more birthdays than Hoover. He died when he was 90.

The ruddy-faced, white-haired Hoover has a simple formula for longevity—work. He illustrates it today by spending his birthday at his desk.

Uses 6 Secretaries

He keeps six secretaries busy with his massive correspondence and activities in various organizations.

He indicated in yesterday's interview that he was confident of America's ability to meet any crisis that might occur, and to defend herself successfully if necessary. But he also saw room for improvement.

He saw need to curb "inflation, unbalanced budgets, overspending by congress, and the growth of crime." He was outspoken on the need for improving the American educational system.

"We have one great difficulty in our competition with Russia," he said, "and I think it is greater than all others, and that is the lag in our training of the best brains we have in the United States, the creation of enough scientists and engineers to carry our productive system forward.

"The Russians are outnumbering us about five to one in those professions which we are solely dependent upon for our defense and for our progress and well-being. I think we ought to reorganize the high schools of the United States . . . where we have a system which lacks entirely in discipline and in effective training . . ."

Toll Takers Suspended

would be turned off at certain periods, and collectors would pocket the coins taken in during those times.

Tolls on the bridge are 10 cents for an auto, 15 cents for a car pulling a one-axle trailer and 40 cents for a semi-trailer.

Last April 20, a toll collector refused to participate in the scheme and told Moran about it. The informer said the loot ran from $7.50 to $40 a day.

Moran said the toll collector then pretended to engage in the looting and turned over his daily take to Moran.

Fifteen FBI agents moved in on May 25. They set up headquarters in a hotel at the

Hunt Killer Despite Death Of Police Chief

Sarasota, Fla. — Search continued today for the unbalanced slayer of Chandler Steffens despite unexpected death of Sarasota's police chief.

Chief Robert N. Wilson, 51, collapsed at his home Sunday and was dead on arrival at a hospital. Brother officers said Wilson, a high blood pressure sufferer, had worked long hours on administrative foot of the bridge on the Iowa side and used electric equipment to count the vehicles crossing the bridge.

Tolls of what tolls were collected and what tolls should have been collected were compared.

Moran said an investigation disclosed that several of the toll collectors were spending far in excess of their salaries. He listed their average pay as $380 monthly. He said that each was bonded for $10,000 "and the bridge commission, will, if necessary, take action to recover on those bonds."

Moran explained that federal prosecution was decided upon on the theory that the alleged thefts resulted from a conspiracy to defraud the United States government, which authorized construction of the bridge.

tasks and the "mummy" slaying of Steffens, 22-year-old University of Florida student whose bound and taped body was found Friday with multiple knife wounds.

Chief of Detectives Arthur Johnson is in active charge of the murder probe. He said officers are quizzing the victim's acquaintances in hopes of turning up some clue to the slayer's identity.

Steffens' body was found in the home of his absent father by the collegian's wife, Betty, 20. The two, who had two children, had been estranged but were reconciled and had gone out together Thursday.

Church Honors Two Officials On Departure

Weber, Kendall Receive Gifts From Neenah Cub Group

Neenah — Two officials of First Evangelical United Brethren church were honored prior to departure at a Sunday evening party at the church. Gifts were presented by the congregation.

They are Armin E. Weber, Jr., route 1, Neenah, Sunday school teacher, and Kenneth Kendall, 207 W. Forest avenue, choir director.

Weber, his wife and five children will leave Tuesday for Ames, Iowa, where he will enroll as a junior at Iowa State college. After graduation, he plans to enroll in a 3-year course at the Evangelical Theological seminary at Naperville, Ill.

Kendall, who is unmarried, will enroll in September at Florida Southern college, Lakeland, Fla., to complete his final two years of work toward a bachelor of arts degree in English.

Weber served three years on the board of education of Lakeview School district and was president of the Menasha Kiwanis club in 1954. Until recently he was vice president of Wisconsin Lubricating and Oil corporation. He also was an official of the church's adult fellowship.

Allen Mueske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mueske, 811 Plank road, was released after examination early Sunday afternoon at Appleton Memorial hospital. His injuries listed on the police report were bruised legs and an abrasion above the left eye.

The boy failed to stop his bicycle at the sign at Kone-mac street and Plank road. The cycle was struck broad-side by a car driven by De-forest Anderson, 54, 187 Gruenwald avenue, Neenah.

A witness confirmed that the boy rode through the intersection without slowing.

No injuries resulted from a 3-car accident on Plank road, involving eastbound vehicles of David W. Damon, 21, Moscow, Idaho, and Marvin E. Kasten, 18, Lake Shore drive, and the westbound car of Mrs. Tiffany Shelby, 716 1/2 Third street.

Police said the Shelby car apparently was over the center line of the street when it sideswiped the other cars.

Speeder Fined In Neenah Court

Neenah — Rudolph Lemke, 37, 906 Bayview road, was fined $20 and costs after he pleaded nolo contendere to a speeding charge before Police Justice E. P. Arpin this morning.

Lemke was arrested Aug. 2 by city police.

Charges Foundry Is Polluting Neenah Air

Editor, Post-Crescent:
To: The Citizens of Neenah, especially to the citizens of the Second, Sixth, and Ninth wards and all users of the Bridgewood Golf course:

Recently there appeared in the local papers, several articles by Mayor Bell castigating individual citizens (without reference to names) for burning refuse in their back yards and causing undesirable odors in the neighborhood.

There are appeared a substantial account of the conditions surrounding the Neenah-Menasha sewerage plant. These accounts are very minor and localized compared to the very unhealthy and dirty conditions caused by the Neenah Foundry. There have been quite a few instances where one could smell the foundry to the very extremities of the city and beyond. This condition is a city-wide problem, not just a localized situation.

The Neenah Foundry is presently constructing a two

Mandarin Jackets Solve Wardrobe Problems

Neatest trick of the year for prospective mothers is a supply of gay mandarin jackets blue or green for around-the-house outfits; for dressy wear have a couple of silk shantung in gay or Chinese brocade, and for off-beat colors and different wear on cool evenings, try one through all occasions. Choose the place right now, and white or a contrasting color. Use a standard pattern and allow a little extra width for purposes of concealment. Collar The mandarin collar should be stiffened with a strip of non-woven interfacing, and the jacket may be lined in a contrasting color which shows at side and sleeve slits. Local sewing center experts give directions for making the frog fastenings and braids. Draw a design for one side of the frog on paper and transfer to jacket. Use underbraider attachment of your slant-needle sewing machine to follow lines. Leave loop on one side to act as buttonhole and finish other side with white pearl button. The frog trim should be used on both sides of the front closing — about four fastenings usually are right. Make single cloverleaf designs to trim sleeves and side slits. Underbraider attachment also may be used to apply soutache braid around edges of hem, sleeves and collar, if desired. Marriage Licenses Oshkosh — Marriage license applications have been filed in County Clerk Neil Hoffmann's office by Eller S. Skou, 302 Merritt avenue, Oshkosh, and

Ancestral Victorian Nightmares May be Treasured Heirlooms

New York —“Love your mother-in-law,” counsels the Countess of Rosse, “and your children may, as a consequence, inherit some treasured heirlooms.”

The future heirlooms which Lady Rosse has in mind particularly are the products of the Victorian and Edwardian period — from 1837 to 1914 — and which, until very recently, have been the subject of the aesthete's scorn.

“Women,” said the English wife of the Irish sixth Earl of Rosse, “have a universal urge to sweep out the treasurers of a previous generation to make room for the newest thing. Sometimes I think it is based on an idea of getting rid of evidences of a mother-in-law's taste.”

Lady Rosse, visiting this country with her husband, is a founder and vice chairman of a newly formed Victorian society in England. Its purpose is, “to make sure that the best Victorian buildings, and their contents do not disappear before their merits are more generally appreciated.”

Apparently in England the vogue for Victorian has lagged behind the United States. For several years now in this country Victorian styles have been returning to decorating fashion. Pieces which used to be regarded as horrors of bad taste suddenly became “amusing,” and now are even referred to as “perfect.”

In the United States, the period of Victoria's reign and the short reign of her son, Edward VII, coincided with the presidential administrations from Martin Van Buren to Theodore Roosevelt. Somewhere far back was the administration of General Grant whose name until recently has been used to describe what was considered the worst of the Victorian mode — the heavy plush, the over-carved wood, the dark mahogany, the fringe, the antimaccasars heaviness, busy-ness.

But to Lady Rosse, Victorian is neither amusing nor gimmerack.

“Much of it is perfectly beautiful — great design,” she insists. “The problem is to pull out the good from the bad — of course, there is a lot of bad in every period.

Choice Period

“In Victoria's reign came the Industrial Revolution, but before everything was swept into the machine age, there was a period when design and individual craftsmanship were never better. This period continued in England well into the 1870's.”

A great deal of Victorian treasure here and abroad has already been lost, says Lady Rosse, because it has been thrown away by families who were either interested in buying new or collecting an older more popular period.

And more, she fears, will vanish as more and more people live in apartments and houses without either cellars or attics in which to store pieces not in use.

“What interests the historian and the collector in early Victorian is the way it illustrates a shift in people's ideas of living,” she said. “At the moment, a lot of people are fascinated by the Georgian period which preceded it. That was a period when the people who could afford it lived with great formality. Furniture was stately, rooms were a little cold.

“Then came the revolt against this formal and coolly beautiful period. People wanted irregularity — they started building towers on small houses. They wanted to get away from the classical and have something homey and intimate.

Excesses Occurred
“So they started crowding in things — palms, glassware, silverware, lots of busy design. And of course, as the trend continued, it went too far.”

Many fine examples of the Victorian period have been preserved in England by families who, unable to afford to throw it out and buy new, covered up unfashionable satin-wood chairs so that nothing was visible but the legs.

“These would have been destroyed if covers hadn't been nailed over them,” she said. “Now the covers are coming off, and people are delighted with their treasures.”

Lady Rosse doesn't want English and American homeowners to throw out their Swedish modern and replace it with portiers and ball fringe.

“But if you have an old piece, use it along with the modern,” she urges. “After all, life goes on and one era slides into another; life isn't broken up like building blocks and neither should be the interior of one's home.”

List Hints For Cooks

Oshkosh — Adding cream of tartar at the rate of one-eighth teaspoon to each egg white will make meringues finer-grained and more tender, advises Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

Use two tablespoons sugar for each egg white. More sugar makes the meringue gummy, while less will make it tough.

For a tempting summer fruit salad, fill cantaloupe circles with seedless grapes, cherries and blueberries. Rim with fluffy lettuce.

Heat crab meat in a little cream seasoned with sherry for a company first course. Serve in scallop shells, real or ceramic.

When you use canned fruit as a garnish for meat or poultry, you will have syrup leftover. Combine the syrup with ginger ale or club soda, with other fruit juices or tea for a between-meals beverage.

Never use hot water for washing dishes that have contained milk, eggs, doughs or cheese mixtures. Instead use cold water and you'll get the job done quicker.

Neenah Residents Entertain Guests

Neenah — Visitors last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hefti, 1102 E. Forest avenue, were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stafford, Springfield, Vt.

The Health Science Of the Future

RUPTON X FURMAN Chiropractor, Neenah

The science of Chiropractic is ushering in an entirely new era of healing. It completely revolutionizes old laws and theories in respect to health and disease.

Rather than treat the ef-fects of lowered resistance, which predisposes to disease, Chiropractic deals with the cause and by so doing offsets chronic ailments and prolongs life.

Very little is known about the many forces and energies about us. Even the common commodity electricity has not been clearly defined. We know it only by its physical manifestations. Chiropractic has definitely established it as an energy or force and it is this life force that the Chiropractor aids in restor-ing.

Chiropractic is the health science of the future. Invest-igate and benefit by it now.

3rd Surgical Room Added At Theda Clark

Enables Hospital To Provide Better Facilities, Service

Neenah — Theda Clark Me-morial hospital has increased its major surgical facilities by opening a fully equipped third operating room, accord-ing to G. L. Aldridge, admin-istrator.

The new room will help to meet the increasing surgical load and also eliminate the long waiting periods for those patients who need surgery.

Surgical Lights

One feature of the new equip-ment in the operating room is modern surgical lights. These are in addition to the stainless steel tables and other surgical necessities. "We were able to secure professional personnel to staff this third unit now so it was to the advantage of the peo-ple in our community to have, a third major operating room, fully equipped and ready," Aldridge said.

For reasons of health and efficiency, most operations are scheduled in the morning. With a third room available for scheduling of operations, the hospital is able to provide surgeons and patients with better time and service.

Color Change

Operations average about two hours, the administrator explained. It takes another 25 to 45 minutes to clean up and re-sterilize after one opera-tion and this would mean 50 to 85 minutes of cleanup in one or two operating rooms. The availability of a third room, therefore, means the

Announce Closing of Menasha Rec Alleys

Menasha — Operators of the Menasha Rec alleys have announced a closing of their business because an agree-ment on a new lease has not been reached with the owner, Ben Marcus.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peters, operators of the alleys for the past 10 years, said personal property and fixtures will be sold at a public auction Aug. 24.

Rubbish Collection

Menasha — Non-combustible waste materials will be col-lected Wednesday in the sec-ond district of Menasha, north of Chute street and the river to Third street. Rubbish must be at curbs by 7 a.m.

difference in time of another operation. Linen, gowns and uniforms of surgeons and nurses in sur-gery have been changed from white to a green color. The color change not only identi-fies surgery patients but also eliminates the glare on eyes of surgeons and nurses which might result from the use of white linen under the bright surgical lights.

Judge Transfers Fognini Case to Circuit Court

Oshkosh — An affidavit of prejudice and a request for a change of venue were filed by Atty. Mark Catlin, Jr., on be-half of his client, Dominic Fognini, 42, no address, this morning. Fognini is charged with grand larceny in the theft of eight suits from the Spoo and Sons clothing store in Oshkosh on May 23. He was to have been arraigned in the record branch of municipal court this morning to plead to an information on file.

Municipal Judge S. J. Luch-singer ordered the court ac-tion transferred to the circuit court. Fognini was ordered to appear in circuit court at 10 a.m. on Sept. 14, which is the first day of the next regula-session of the court. Fognini is free on $5,000 bail. In the extradition case against Fognini, District Atty. Jack Steinhilber recommend-ed an adjournment of 60 days until Friday Oct. 9. He is free on $750 bail on the fugitive warrant charging "attempted theft of money, goods and chattel over $50 "from Bro-ward county, Florida in 1957.

Menasha Legion '9' Nips Winneconne

Winners Take Lead in Second Frame; Kaufert Earns Victory

Menasha — Getting one of Winneconne's fine righthanders better pitching efforts of the year, the Menasha Junior Legion nine closed its Legion feud, the Menashans took a 1-0 league schedule with a 4-1 win over Winneconne here Saturday afternoon.

Winneconne broke the scoreless tie with a run in the top of the second. Bill Malnory from Bill Becker in the ninth after giving up two hits, the two limited the visitors to seven hits. Menasha made a like amount off Bryce Schmude.

Kirchgeorg, Rather Score Double Wins

Eric Bergstrom, Frank Grundman, Garner 'E' Races

Neenah — John Kirchgeorg won both class D races and Tony Roberts finished first in the two X fleet tests to lead Neenah Nodaway Yacht club skippers in weekend regattas on Lake Winnebago.

Eric Bergstrom won the Sunday E scow race and Frank Grundman was first in the Saturday regatta.

Bergstrom won his race by inches. After leading the fleet by a substantial margin, he was overtaken by Charlie Catlin who elected to sail through shifting winds with a spinnaker while Bergstrom changed sails several times.

Catlin led the way down the windward leg and chose to tack across the finish line only to be overtaken when Bergstrom headed for the close end of the line to win by a narrow margin. Isakson edged Grundman for third place.

Isakson and Catlin finished within 15 seconds of Grundman in Saturday's race. The latter took the lead on the reaching leg. The reacher he set permitted him to sail past the leaders. On the last leg, Isakson sailed into the shore area where he picked up a favorable wind slant that carried him into second position.

6 Minute Lead Cut — Kirchgeorg won Sunday's D scow regatta although his lead of 6 minutes at the completion of the first triangle was cut to 15 seconds at the finish line. John Dixon, who was tacking on every shift, worked into a threatening position as the race ended. Steve Den Dooven was third. Kathy Hedlund withdrew from the race when her boat hit a race mark.

Kirchgeorg finished five seconds ahead of Dixon in the Saturday race. Don Craig sailed toward the finish line in third position where he had to complete a final tack to finish, only to be caught in stays where he was held as Bob Buchanan and Den Dooven breezed through to take third and fourth.

Critical Point — Roberts was trailed by John Rather and Jim Vogt in Saturday's X boat race. The critical point for Roberts occurred at the home mark when Rather skillfully forced him above the buoy to gain the undisputed lead.

Rather expected to finish and upon learning his error failed to round the mark and had to retrace his course too late to overtake Roberts.

Roberts took an early lead in the Sunday race and sailed on unchallenged, Vogt was second and Rather third.

Local Drivers Fail In Divisional Races

Neenah — Twin City drivers failed to qualify for the national outboard races in the Great Lake divisional Saturday and Sunday at Kalama, Mich.

Competing were Don and Jack Schmitzer and Bob Grundman. Region 7, of which Grundman is a member, captured 14 of the 18 berths. First and second place finishers in nine divisions qualify for the national meet at Portland, Ore., in two weeks.

Bowling Loop Seeks 2 Additional Squads

Menasha — The Twin City Industrial Men's Bowling league has openings for two teams. Raymond Kraus, league president, reported today.

The league will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Madison alleys. The 20-team circuit will open play in September.

Faces Menasha Macs

Paige Classified With America's Greatest; Began Career in 1925

Menasha — Lefty "Satchel" Paige, whose age is estimated anywhere from 50 to 60, may well be classified as America's greatest pitcher of all time.

How good Paige might have been playing daily against baseball's greatest never will be known for the old right-hander didn't get to the majors until after the color barrier had been broken and by then he was well along in years.

Paige, who will send his Havana Cuban All-Stars against the Menasha Macs Wednesday night at the Menasha ball park, has been hailed from coast to coast as one of the most proficient pitchers in the game.

Wins 31 Games — The colorful pitcher was described by the immortal Joe DiMaggio as the fastest pitcher he had ever seen and the fabulous "Dizzy" Dean gave a similar appraisal.

Paige began his career in 1925 with the Chattanooga Black Lookouts. He has pitched just about everywhere in the United States and most of the world. In 1933, the fastballer hurled 42 games, winning 31 and losing four. He had 16 shutouts and a span of 62 successive scoreless innings.

"Satchel", who wears size 14 shoes, got his nickname because he toted bags at a train station as a boy at Mobile, Ala.

Signed by Veeck — He was signed by Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians in 1948 and helped the Indians to a pennant with a 5-0 record. In his first start, with a fore another new record night crowd of 78,322, he made it two straight shutouts, 1-0, again over the White Sox, this time just allowing two singles. Paige also saved four games in 1948.

Hurls for Miami — Paige stayed with Cleveland in 1949 and was with the St. Louis Browns in 1951, 1952 and 1954. The last three years he has been with the Miami Marlins in the International league where he was their top moundsman.

Last year when the club finished below .500, Paige had a 10-10 record with a 2.95 earned run average. He struck out 40 while walking only five in 110 innings. He can still put 50 of 55 pitches across the plate, still relying on his fast ball.

Dodgers Trim Cub Squad 12-6 In Final Game

Indians Defeat Senators 11-10 in Junior Loop Play

Neenah — The champion Dodgers trimmed the Cubs 12-6 in a senior league fracas as the playground baseball program's regular schedule closed Friday at Washington park. This week's action will be devoted exclusively to all-star games.

The Dodgers scored three runs in the first, four in the second and five in the third in besting the undermanned Cubs. (The losers only had seven players).

Larry Tesch and Fran Goetz pitched for the Dodgers and Ricky Getschow and Stu Schwerin hurled for the Cubs. Fran and George Goetz, Tesch, Palmer Sell and Dave Missall all had two hits for the Dodgers and Bruce Sensiba, Schwerin and Winn Zimmerman each had a pair for the Cubs.

The Indians edged the Senators 11-10 in a Junior league tilt. Joe Began was the winner and Dick Austin was charged with the loss.

Gary Tollefson had three hits and Began one for the Indians and Dick Kuchl had three and Dave Neubauer, Bill Sharpe and John Oehlke two each for the Senators.

Packer Offense Surprises in Intrasquad Tilt Before 11,566

Tim Brown Is Leading Ball Carrier

Green Bay — There was an air of mystery to the Packers' squad game at City stadium Saturday afternoon. But that may be nothing compared to the mystery surrounding the Packer-Bear non-leaguer in Milwaukee next Saturday night.

Lombardi Asks Waivers on Seven

Green Bay — Today, Vince Lombardi asked waivers on seven players, trimming the Packer squad to 48. Cut were guard Dick Grogg, UCLA; end Jim Yeates, Corpus Christi (Texas) college; halfback Earl Miller, Baylor; tackle Roger Wypczynski, St. Norbert (Wis.) college; halfback Des Koch, USC, and halfback Ken Weinberg, Texas Christian, and Bill Yelverton, tackle from Mississippi.

Staley, Wynn Pitch Chisox to Double Win Over Hapless Senators

Early Captures 15th Victory on 3-Hitter; Yankees Cop Pair to Gain Third Place Tie

By the Associated Press Ability to win the close ones is what makes championship clubs and the Chicago White Sox have won 28 of the 33 1-run games they've played this season.

The White Sox swept a doubleheader from hapless Washington Sunday, winning the first game 4-3 on the superb relief pitching of 39-year-old Gerry Staley and adding the second game, 9-0, on the shut-out pitching of another 39-year-old, Early Wynn.

Uphill Battles

The New York Yankees won two uphill battles from Kansas City, 4-3 in 14 innings and 3-2 in 11 to climb into a third place tie with Baltimore although the Orioles defeated the Indians, 4-3. Detroit moved past the Athletics into fifth place by defeating the Boston Red Sox, 7-3.

Wynn became the American league's biggest winner when he blanked the Senators on three hits in the nightcap for his fifteenth triumph.

Chicago won the opener in the ninth. A poor throw by Roy Sievers on an easy roller allowed Jim Landis to score the winning run. Landis had singled for his third hit of the game, and advanced to second on a wild pitch by reliever Dick Hyde.

Giants Gain Game On Dodgers; Phils Win Doubleheader

By the Associated Press The New York Giants won the 1951 pennant because of the trade they made the year before for Eddie Stanky and Alvin Dark. They repeated in 1954 because of the trade they made the year before for Johnny Antonelli.

If the San Francisco Giants win in 1959 it may be because of the trades they made for pitchers Jack Sanford and Sam Jones.

Sanford and Jones along with southpaw Johnny Antonelli, are chiefly responsible for the Giants' game and a half lead over Los Angeles and 2 1/2-game bulge over Milwaukee today.

Chiefs' Brice Wins, 5-3, Over Foxes' Griffith

Brice was invincible, dealing ruthless baseball and striking out seven with his wicked curve. Griffith was hit more freely but served up only two earned runs — the same as Brice — and both hurlers passed eight in a walk-free game. The Foxes scored once in the first on Oliver's 1-out single, Hernan Vila's single, a walk to Jim Johnston and a bases-loaded walk to Ron Dibelius.

Lincoln made it 3-1 in the second. Don Bacon and Brice walked. "Chuck" Lehman forced Bacon at third, trying to bunt. Hershberger hit a perfect double play ball to Pascual. But "Potato," a bit rusty after missing 15 straight ball games, heaved the old potato into right field, allowing Brice to score from second.

A Wild Pitch Fox Cities knotted the affair in the third. With one out, Griffith and Phil Condu singled and Oliver walked. Vila's slow roller was turned into an out, but Griffith scored on the play. Pascual walked, the fourth ball being a wild pitch that enabled Condu to tie it up.

After three scoreless innings, Lincoln regained the upper hand. With one out in the sixth, Lehman walked. Hershberger singled him to third and took second on the throw. Slugger Lynn was passed purposely to fill the bases.

"Deacon" Jones fled to Vila in medium left field. The star infielder-outfielder hauled it in and rifled a perfect throw to the plate. Feller put the ball on Lehman for an apparent side — returning double play, but Jack immediately dropped the ball — and the big run was home.

Lincoln added another in the seventh after Oliver threw badly on Bacon's 2-out roller. Brice then walked, and Lehman hit a run-scoring single.

Finsterwald Wins $8,800 At Cleveland Captures Tourney By 1 Stroke Over Souchak, Littler

Cleveland, Ohio —(AP)—Dapper Dow Finsterwald, with $8,800 of Cleveland Open golf winnings in his wallet, flew home to Tequesta, Fla., to see his wife and three youngsters. The rest of the touring professionals headed for Detroit, and the Motor City Open. Finsterwald will fly back and play there without benefit of a practice round over the unfamiliar layout.

Dow, the 1958 PGA champ from Athens, Ohio, roared from a seventh place deadlock and a 3-stroke deficit Sunday to take the $25,000 Cleveland event in a hair-raising finish. He had a closing 68, three under par, for the 6,966-yard Seneca course and an 8-under-par total of 276.

Gene Littler wound up a stroke back, tied with big Mike Souchak. Finsterwald, runnerup in 20 tournaments since he hit the trail in 1952, thought he was second again when he took his lone bogey on the closing hole, where he blasted a trap shot far over the green. But his challengers failed to take advantage of the lapse and Dow picked up the $2,500 top prize, a bonus of $5,000 for repeating his 1958 victory and $300 in appearance money.

Offense Is Surprising In Packer 'Game'

Fourteen different ball carriers were employed and there were 12 pass receivers. There were some new and unknown faces among the leaders. Halfback Tim Brown, a swiftness from Ball State was the leading ground game with 75 yards in four carries. Dave Smith, the Ripon fullback, caught the most passes—three. And defensive back Bill Butler of Chattanooga via Berlin, Wis., made the longest run—a 56-yard return of a punt for a TD.

(12 for 22) and increased his season's mark to 327. New Fox shortstop Nate Oliver continued to perform back in six plays. The big plays were Mc Han's 31-yard pass to Alex Hawkins who made a fine catch. Lew Carpenter's 13-yard run, a 10-yard run by Smith, and Carpenter's 10-yard touchdown run through a big hole over left guard. The score was 14-7 at the end of the first quarter.

The defense slammed the door shut in the second and third quarters. A blocked Laraba punt by Jim Yeats set up the third touchdown. Starting from the enemy 20 and with Francis at halfback, McHan scored in four plays. The second play was for 16 yards on a pass to Francis and the payoff was a 3-yard pass from McHan to A. D. Williams in the end zone.

Parilli and the unheralded Brown moved 80 yards in five plays for the final touchdown on the next series. Brown scooted 26 yards off right end to start it. Al Carmichael went to the enemy 46 on a run up the middle. Parilli tossed to Al Romine for 10 yards to the 36. Brown hit right end for 7 and then wheeled around left end on a pitchout on a 25-yard touchdown run.

The next mystery involves the Bears who will get an advance look at the Packers via Walter Hala who scouted the squad game. The Packers came out of the game with no serious injuries. Trainer "Bud" Jorgensen was happy to report.

Lombardi and aides Phil Austin, Norb Hecker, Bill Bunting and "Red" Cochran looked at movies of the game Sunday morning. Any surprises? Vince told AP sports-writers at dinner with the team Sunday noon that Linebacker Ed Buckingham, who wears a size 13E shoe, and Dick Emerich both surprised. Buckingham was at defensive tackle and Emerich at offensive guard.

more than adequately. Oliver for the plate from second on rapped three singles and Condu's scratch hit and Nate made a sensational diving stop of "Chuck" Lehman's grounder to retire the side in the ninth inning. A single by "Deacon" Jones, Gene Martin's double, Lynn's triple and a walk gave Lincoln its 4-0 first inning lead. A Jones double after an error made it 5-0 in the second. Lynn singled, "Pug" Williamson doubled and Gene Martin singled for a 7-0 lead in the third.

Score in Fourth The Foxes tallied a run in the fourth on a Vila single, a walk and Jim Johnston's single run by Smith, and Carpenter's 10-yard touchdown run through a big hole over left guard. The score was 14-7 at the end of the first quarter.

The defense slammed the door shut in the second and third quarters. A blocked Laraba punt by Jim Yeats set up the third touchdown. Starting from the enemy 20 and with Francis at halfback, McHan scored in four plays. The second play was for 16 yards on a pass to Francis and the payoff was a 3-yard pass from McHan to A. D. Williams in the end zone.

Parilli and the unheralded Brown moved 80 yards in five plays for the final touchdown on the next series. Brown scooted 26 yards off right end to start it. Al Carmichael went to the enemy 46 on a run up the middle. Parilli tossed to Al Romine for 10 yards to the 36. Brown hit right end for 7 and then wheeled around left end on a pitchout on a 25-yard touchdown run.

The next mystery involves the Bears who will get an advance look at the Packers via Walter Hala who scouted the squad game. The Packers came out of the game with no serious injuries. Trainer "Bud" Jorgensen was happy to report.

1. Just what is weight?

2. When was the first piano made?

3. Who were the only two the loudest "voices"?

U. S. presidents whose deaths occurred within the White House?

4. In what year was the U. S. Social Security Act passed?

5. What five animals are generally conceded to have the loudest "voices"?

ANSWERS

1. The measure of the force with which a body is attracted to the earth. The weight of any body depends upon two factors—the quantity of matter which it contains, and its position with respect to the earth.

2. In 1709, by Bartolomeo Cristofori.

Sure, Mom! They look healthy and well, all suntanned after a vacation in the sun! But sometimes even the most observant parent can't detect little troubles that occur in children that need the attention of a reliable and trusted physician. Given the proper care at first they are easily corrected. That's why it is so important to have your youngsters checked from head to toe before they start back to school. Your family doctor stands ready to correct minor disturbances before they become major illnesses.

1959 Music Festival Better Than Last Year

Byronic Pianist Shows Talent, But Sidney Harth Great Favorite

BY RUSS WIDOE
Post-Crescent News Service

Fish Creek — The Peninsula Music festival sponsored by the Peninsula Arts association has started its 1959 season. Saturday night was the opening concert.

The usual question is: "How did it compare with last year?" It's better.

The orchestra, the usual 40 strong, seems more sure of itself, more alert to the wishes of Thor Johnson, the director, and has a higher percentage of really fine musicians in all chairs.

Saturday night introduced a young pianist who showed remarkable talent for his age. John Browning played Beethoven's "Concerto No. 4 in G Major."

Browning is the champion chain shaker and cyrcrow-raiser of the world, but he is welcome to his romantic idiosyncrasies, and Byronic mien, just as long as he continues to deliver the fine phrasing, dynamic technique and innovative musicianship that characterize his work.

Other Saturday offerings were Poulenc's "Sinfonietta," and the Scarlatti-Tommasini suite. "The Good Humoured Ladies," which was charmingly performed Saturday evening.

Poulenc's composition, though well played, is in the best "movie mood music" tradition. It is more commercial than the usual Poulenc.

in Fish Creek. Everyone seems to sense the fact that we are lucky to have him. They always afford him the warmest of receptions.

He reaffirmed this faith in him Sunday afternoon with his performance of Prokofiev's "Concerto No. 2 in G Minor."

The second movement with its stunning melodic line sang in fine romantic style as the Harth bow did its work.

The tremendously demanding finale became a frenzied musical masterpiece rather than the technical showpiece a lesser artist might have provided.

Danz's "Symphony in C Major" opened the matinee Sunday. It is pretty thin soup, a well dressed maiden lady, coy but colorless.

Mendelssohn's "Symphony No. 3 in A minor" (The Scotch Symphony) provided a finale worthy of the title "grand."

The Scotch Symphony is a good test of an orchestra.

The festival group under Dr. Johnson passed with honors. The old timer had a new sheen and yet all of its traditional grandeur was retained.

I am looking forward to the remainder of the series, nine concerts in all through Sunday, Aug. 23.

Probationer, 17, Had Car Reported Stolen on Saturday

A 17-year-old probationer Saturday admitted to police he had the car reported stolen early Saturday morning by Glen Knaack, 721 E. Maple street.

The probationer said he received permission to use the auto, but failed to take it back to Knaack at a downtown restaurant. Knaack supports the story.

The car turned up Saturday morning in the driveway of a E. South River street resident, who called police. The citizen said the car had just been abandoned.

The probationer, who has been turned over to probation officials, said he panicked when he saw a police patrol car come after him. The police driver lost the car as it turned into the driveway.

Knaack did not tell police originally that he gave the boy permission to use the car.

State to Explain Meaning of Holdup in Highway Aids

The effect of the holdup in federal highway aids will be explained to county highway commissioners and commissioners from 11 northeastern counties Wednesday at the American Legion clubhouse.

L. W. Empey, district highway engineer, said the meeting will start at 10 a.m., with general talks of the aids situation coming in the morning and separate meetings with various county delegations set for the afternoon.

Non-Resident Library Policy Under Study

Board Will Delay Recall of Cards Until Solution Reached

Appleton public library's service to non-residents of Outagamie county, scheduled for curtailment Sept. 1, will be continued until the board has the opportunity to consider the matter further, according to Mrs. Gordon R. McIntyre, library board president.

A new policy adopted by the board at its July 27 meeting stopping operating card privileges to non-county borrowers has resulted in protests from many library patrons, particularly those living in the Winnebago and Calumet county areas south of Appleton.

The action points out that residents of Appleton, Outagamie county, teachers and students enrolled at schools in the county all have borrowing privileges. Those who live outside the county may obtain books only through their local libraries, using the inter-library loan system, the policy states. Outside residents are not eligible for an operating card.

"There is no desire on the part of the trustees to curtail library service to anyone," Mrs. McIntyre said today, "but the costs of service must be met. Many libraries charge a fee to service non-residents."

She pointed out that the Appleton library is operated from tax money from the city.
